FOREWORD:

Day breaks over Akron, and light spills into the pacific corridor of the school on the hill, illuminating the setting that will witness the moments of activity during the school day. This light produces the images by which we see ourselves in our surroundings — in our classes, our activities, our social and athletic events, and with our friends. As each integral part of high school life reflects our presence as a whole, we sense the feeling of truly belonging to that familiar academic society here at Hoban. In a year's time, we have made our impressions clearly upon our surroundings, just as our surroundings have impressed us, and we can see our image engraved into the very life of the school. These images are many and fleeting in a single year, but we, the editors, hope to capture Hoban life in its various moods in the '62 WAY by . . .

DEDICATION: TO GOD'S ARCHITECT

THE MOST REVEREND EDWARD F. HOBAN DEDICATING THE HIGH SCHOOL IN 1955

Forty years a bishop.

During a man's single lifetime we can measure his achievement by the legacies he leaves to posterity. Here at Hoban High we enjoy, in the school we attend, such a legacy of Archbishop Edward F. Hoban, Bishop of Cleveland. Our school is not only a tribute to a great man of God, but a diamond of many carats which will have far-reaching effects in our own lives.

A new high school.

In 1955 Archbishop Hoban came to Akron to dedicate and bless the large new school on the hill. Today, this school stands high above our city as a symbol of the growing Catholic education in the diocese.

Although His Excellency has many schools to his credit in his long years as bishop, we at Hoban will be ever grateful for this singular privilege in our lives: BEING MEN FROM HOBAN HIGH.

The new school year commences with Holy Mass in the school auditorium.

STUDENTS MEET THE CHALLENGE

During late August and early September of '61, the doors of Hoban High swung open, admitting the students who were destined to work, cooperate, and socialize together during the coming nine months. The halls and classrooms once more became populated, and an energetic din replaced the solitary quiet which was prevalent over the summer months.

Long lines of students waiting for books and schedules were reflected in the mirror-smooth waxed floors. Befuddled freshmen replaced the familiar faces of last year's graduates. The opening Mass set off the new year with a religious mood, an important aspect of Hoban life.

By September 6, everyone was in class and slowly but surely becoming adjusted to the school routine. That first week reflected briefly what was to follow rapidly in the many coming weeks.

Surveying their fates, incoming Hobanites pour over the prospects of high school glory.

Brother Donan directs bewildered freshies in the hall.

OF A NEW YEAR

Class cards, statistics cards, etc., are checked off by Brothers John Benesh and John Aubry.

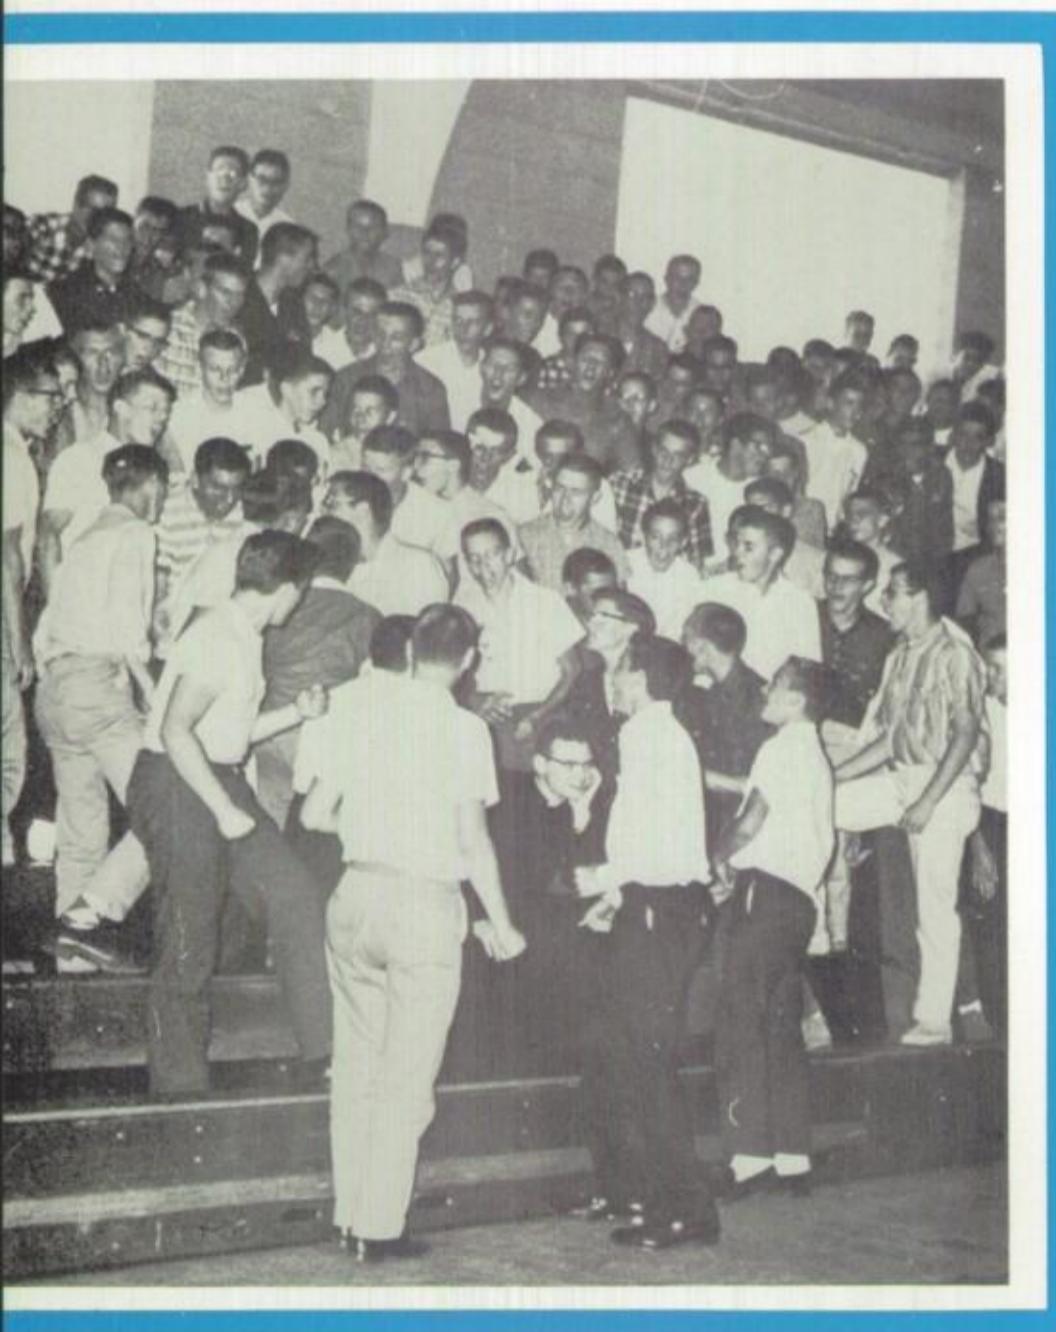

Even our mothers joined in our quest for new or used books.

When all is said and done—back to the old grind of the classroom disciplines.

A NEW YEAR OF SPIRITED LIFE

Throughout the school year our work and varied activities blended into sturdy Hoban lives. We gained in classes the knowledge, at activities the cooperation and experience, in athletics the physical fitness and spirit, and at social events the friendships necessary for a successful life. The aims of a good Catholic education we fulfilled with a spirit that gained us prestige academically, socially, athletically, and, we hope, spiritually.

At one of the frequent assemblies students burst forth with a section cheer in support of the team.

The leads in the school production of "Stardust" receive applause at the finale.

Memories of days long past run through parents' minds as they attend the annual Parents' Night program.

At one of the many dances during the year, the boys swing their dates in an evening of fun and flurry.

The chocolate drive gets off to a successful start with the distribution of chocolate bars at the assembly.

School begins each day at the entrance, as students meet and socialize before classes.

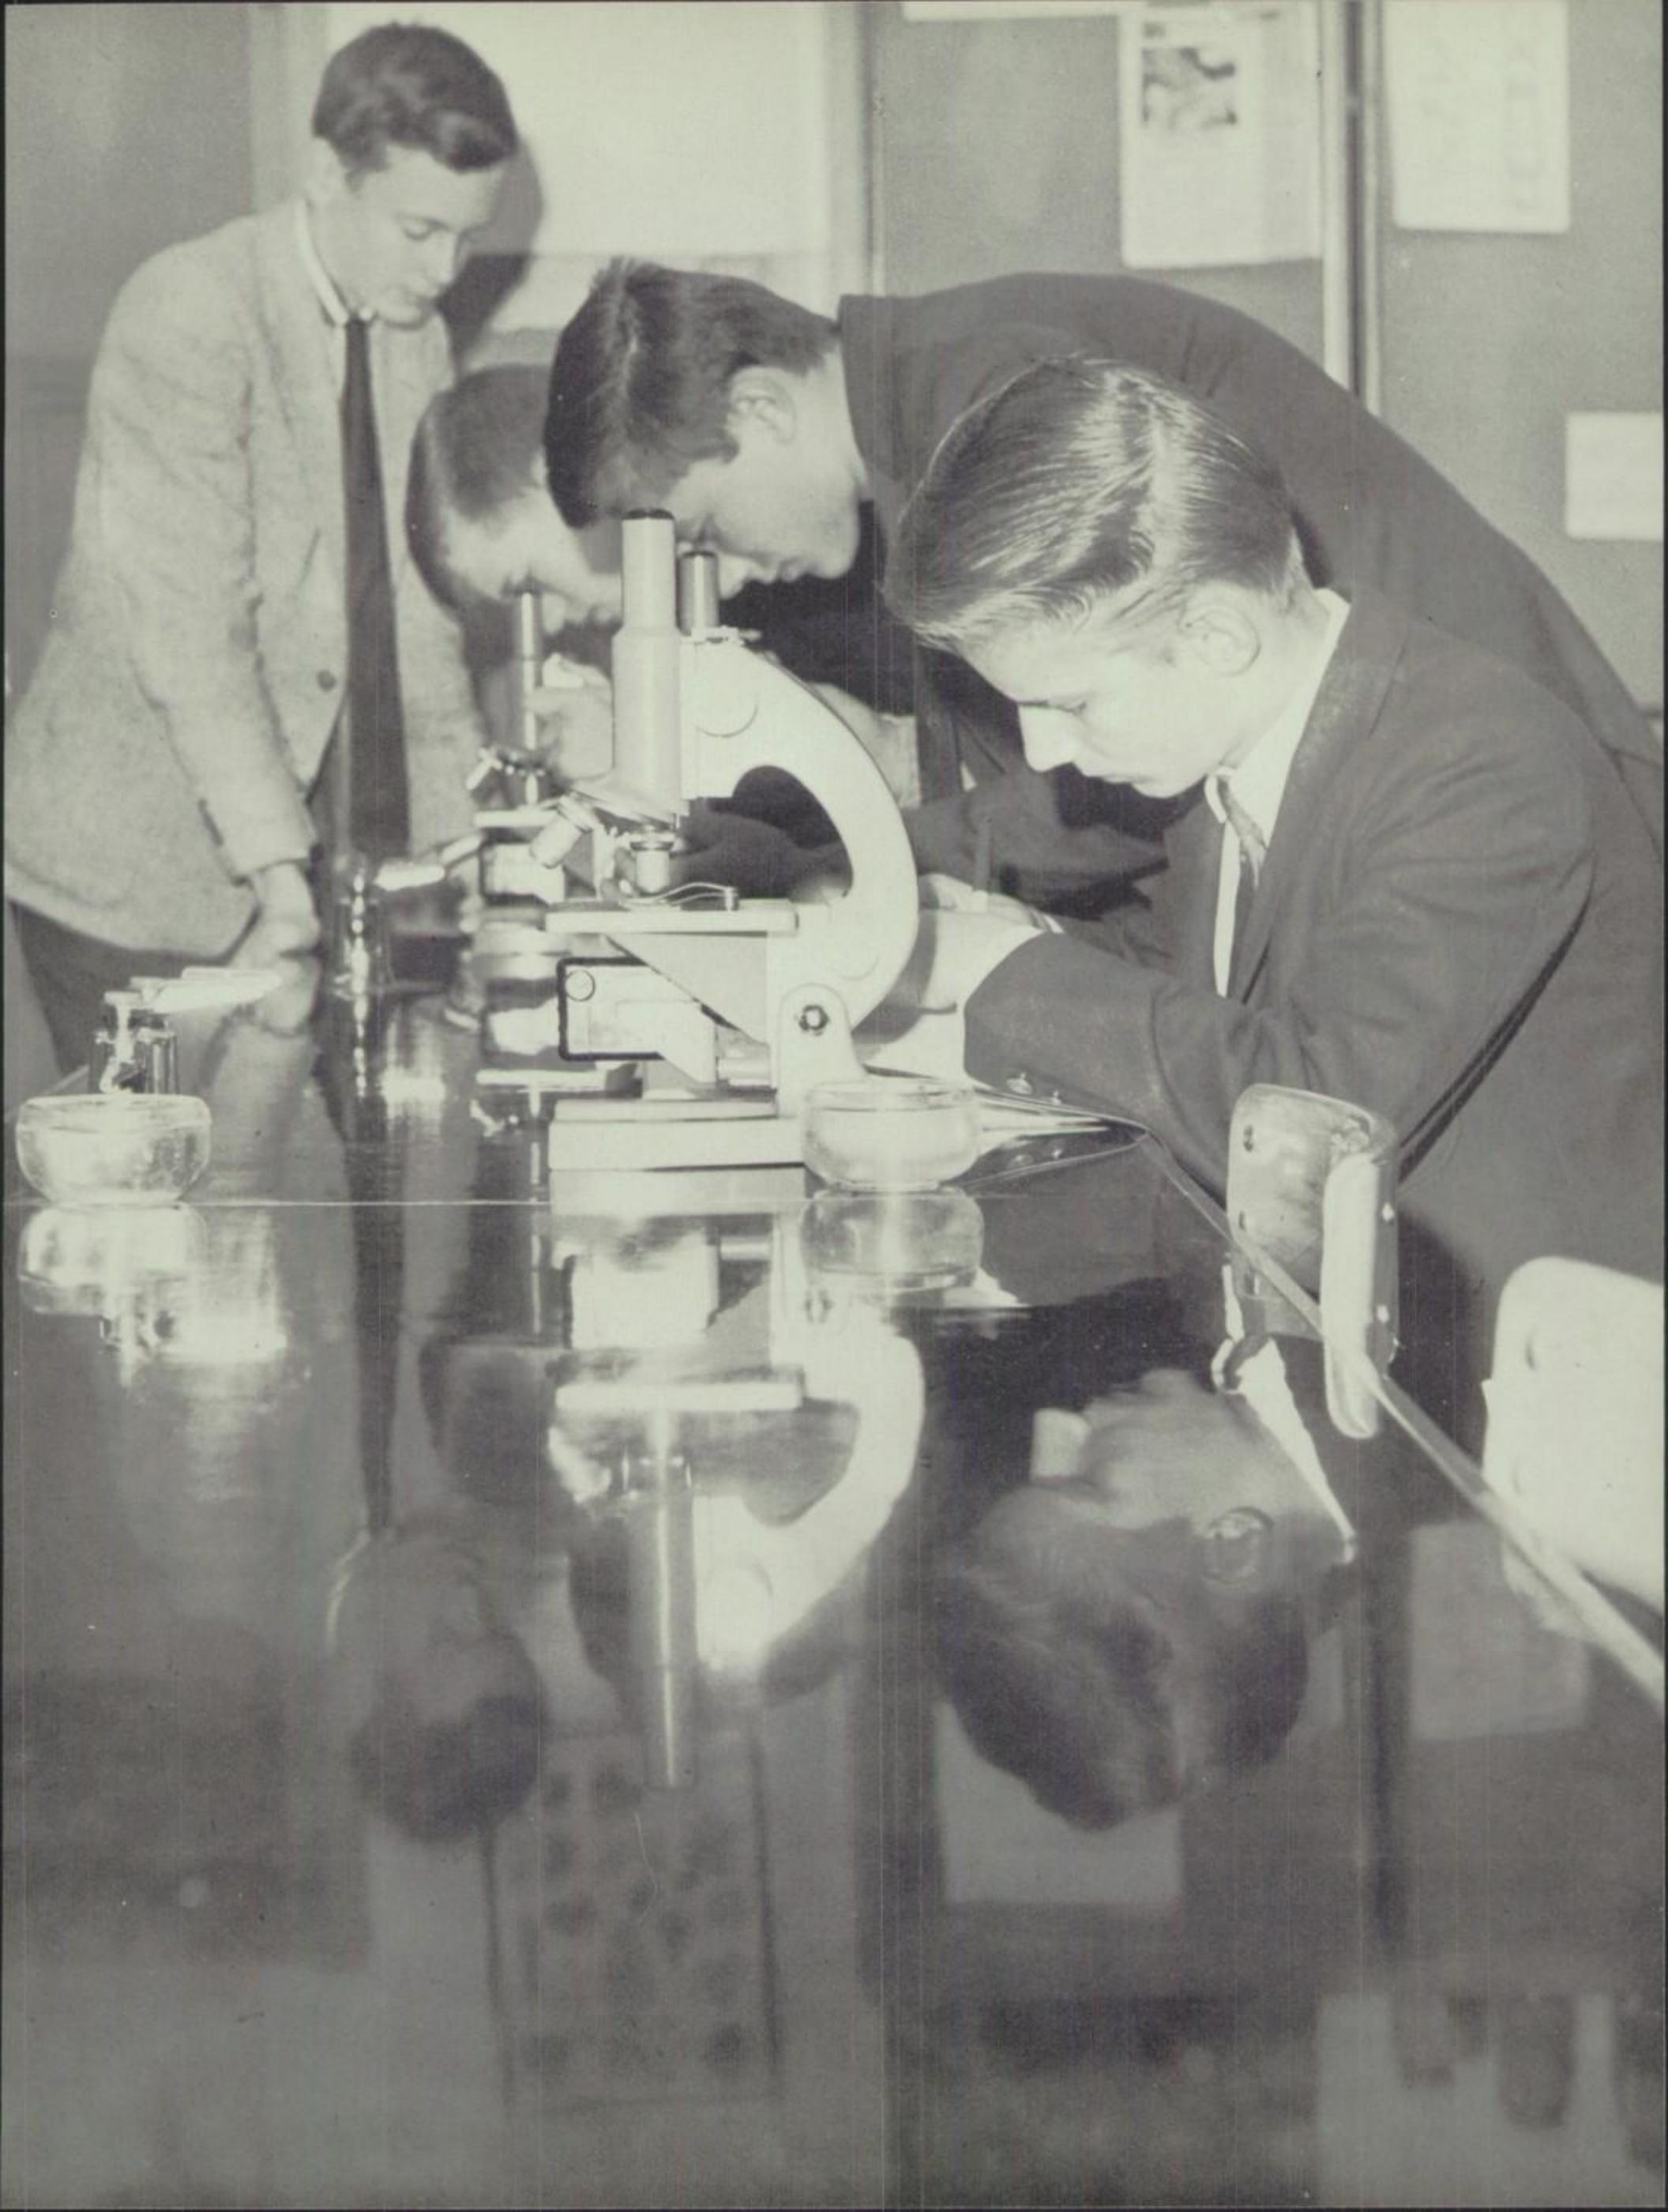

ACADEMICS

Because many areas of varied and interesting material are readily available to the student, he may tend to slight the most important aspect of the school's reason for existence — the development of the student's mind. Here at Hoban, academics play the major role in the school's life. By cultivating and stimulating the mind, the school will develop a healthy mental and social attitude that is most needed for today's world of progressive education and far-reaching social, scientific, and economic development. Through the academic array, including our Language, Science, Mathematics, and Religion Departments, and especially the practical and fine arts program, our previously uncharted mental areas are tapped. Attesting to the effectiveness of the academic vigor are the increased number of scholarship winners, surviving national competition for academic recognition. It is this vigor that is reflected in and exemplified by all the Hoban men.

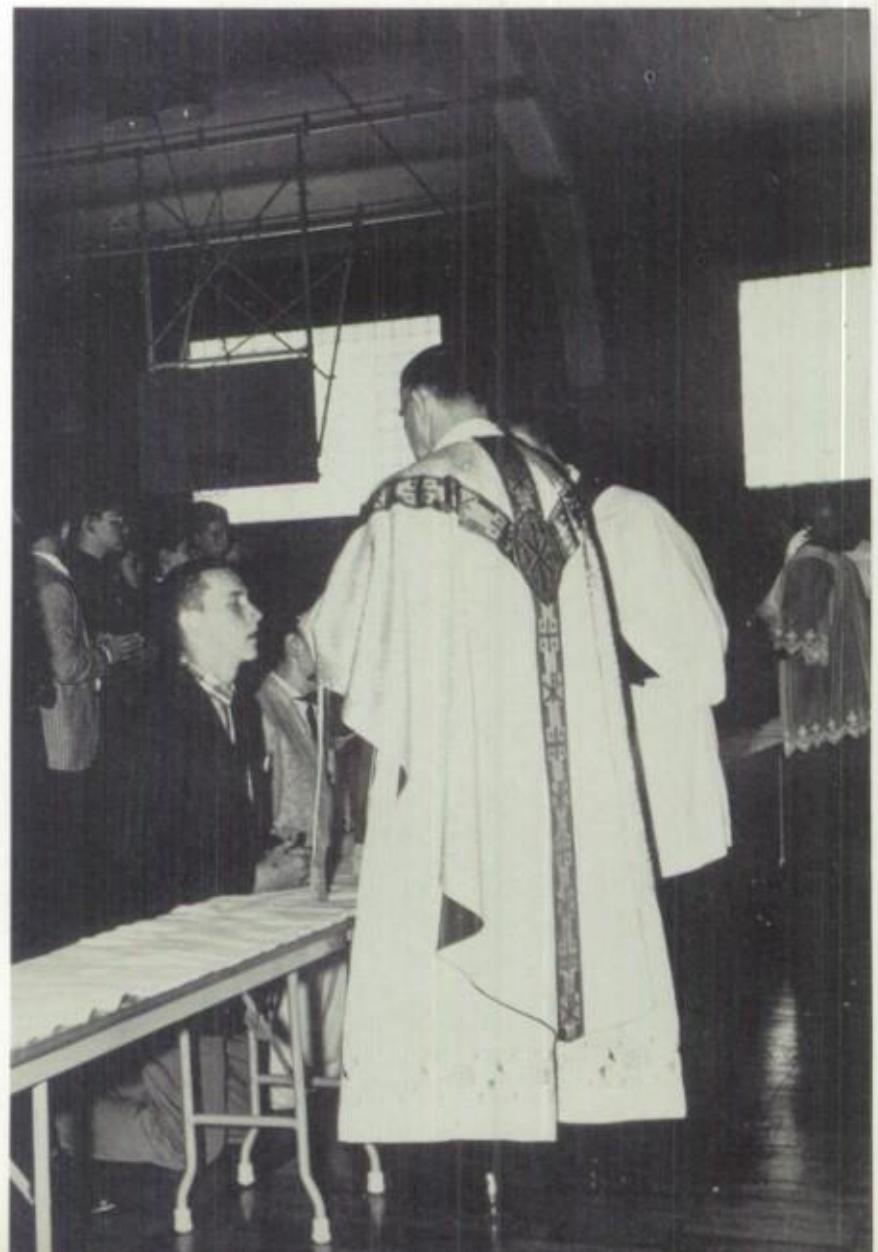

The school chapel is the hub of spiritual growth in all our activities.

LIVING OUR FAITH

At Hoban High our Catholic faith is developed through learning and actively participating in the practices and liturgy of the Catholic Church. Three times a year, every Hobanite makes a day of recollection, during which time he has a chance to look back over his life to make firm decisions to better his life. Mass is celebrated in the school auditorium every First Friday of the month during the school year. Weekly periods of adoration for help in deciding our vocations in life is coupled with the daily opportunities we have for receiving Holy Communion and the Sacrament of Penance. Daily classes in the study of our faith, the publishing of the Religious Bulletin, and the example of Catholic virtues in our instructors foster the processes of learning and living our faith.

Father Leon Boarman distributes Holy Communion each First Friday in the school auditorium.

Seniors observe weekly periods of adoration for vocations.

Father Bilstein, S.J., delivers one of the many conferences during the days of recollection.

THROUGH LEARNING

John LaCause distributes the Hoban Religious Bulletin during the 4A Religion period.

Tom Pinto tapes passages from Chaucer with help from Mike Mitchen and Mark Pouliot.

Roman legionnaires come to life in Latin III with original costumes designed by (l-r) Clayton Samels, Denis Hughes, Charles Zodrow, and Tom Tulenko.

COMMUNICATING

Frequent publication of KNIGHT LIFE evoked much group activity in Brother John Aubry's journalism class.

EFFECTIVELY WITH OTHERS

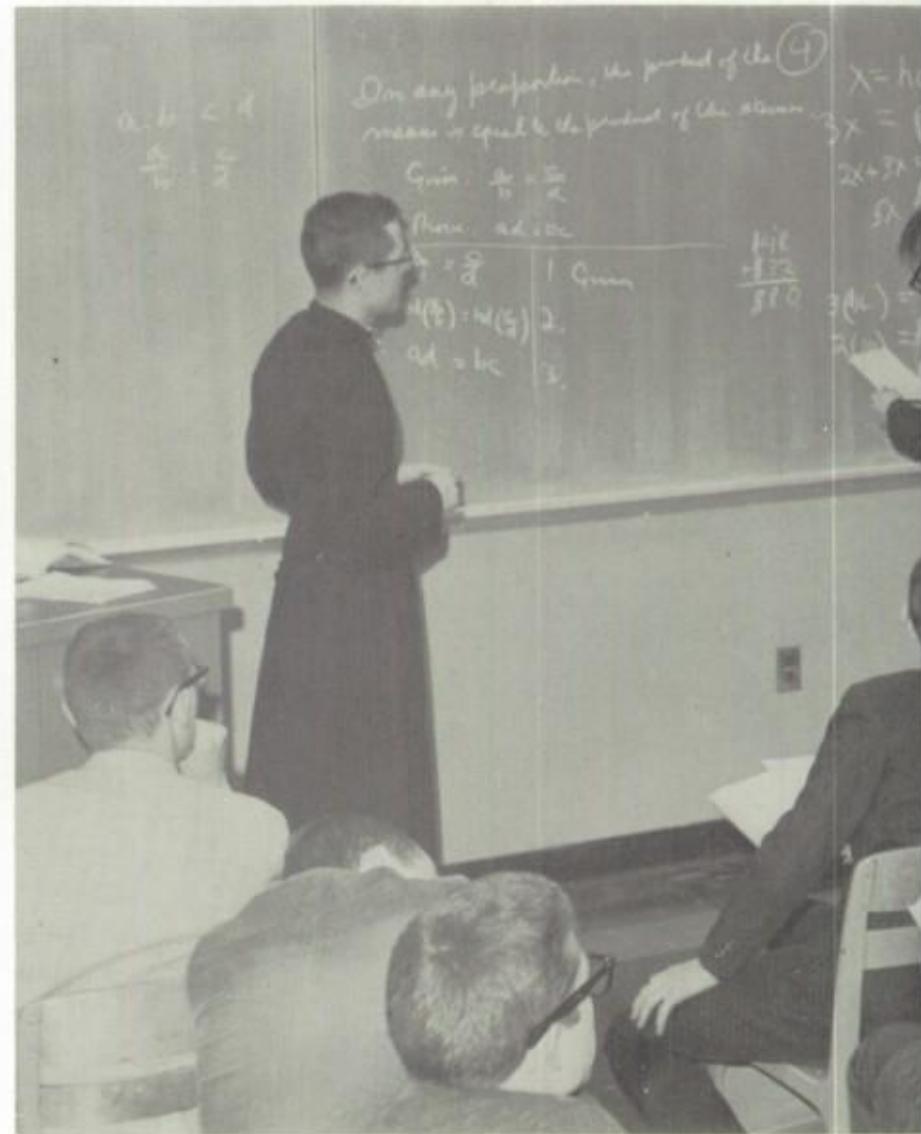

Expressing one's own ideas and studying the expression of other's ideas is a major factor in the Hoban curriculum. Journalism and speech classes deal with self-expression, while the Latin and French classes pertain to the study of both classical and modern civilizations. English is a much more complicated language than we may realize. Every year we delve a little further into the realm of its complexity. The entire language department contributes to the well-rounded personality, besides enrichening the school's atmosphere.

Research work presents problems to students in the various English classes. Invading the card catalog are (l-r) Vic Rogers, Tom Babb, Jerry Broadhurst, Bob Kelly and Nick Tholt.

DELVING INTO THE PROBLEMS

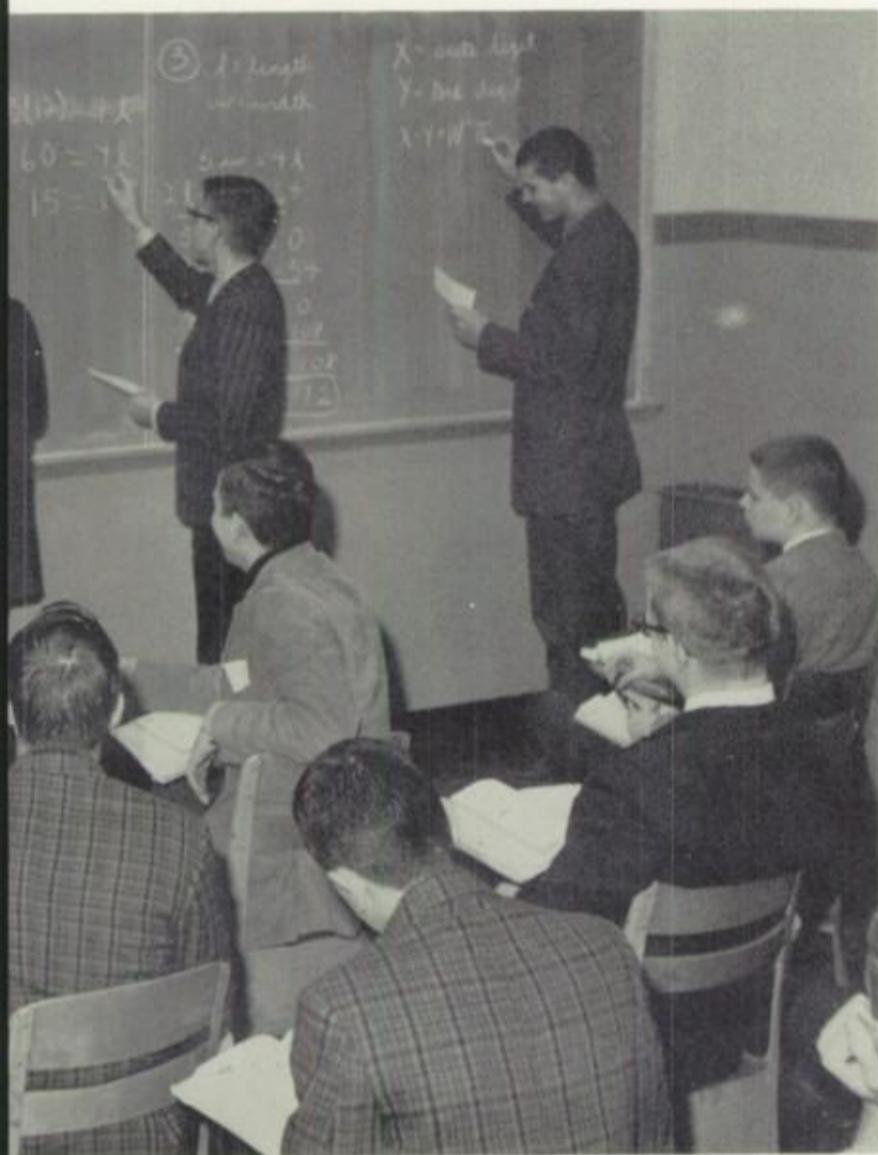

Readily lending itself to the Hoban student, mathematics is one of the most familiar and most interesting subjects found at Hoban. In this day and age, because of new inventions and discoveries, a thorough and intensive study of mathematics is necessary. Learning the intricacies of algebra, plane geometry, analytical geometry, trigonometry, and even calculus, while seeming an almost impossible task, well proves its worth in this scientific age. Besides offering the required, ample mathematics course, Hoban High also offers a math program of a more difficult nature — a student, if capable, may take five years of mathematics, a study which may lead to a further career in mathematics or science, besides making the student realize the full depth of his ability.

Proving a theorem in trigonometry has always been a long and difficult task. Here Jerry Leyden undertakes the difficult assignment and ends up, well . . .

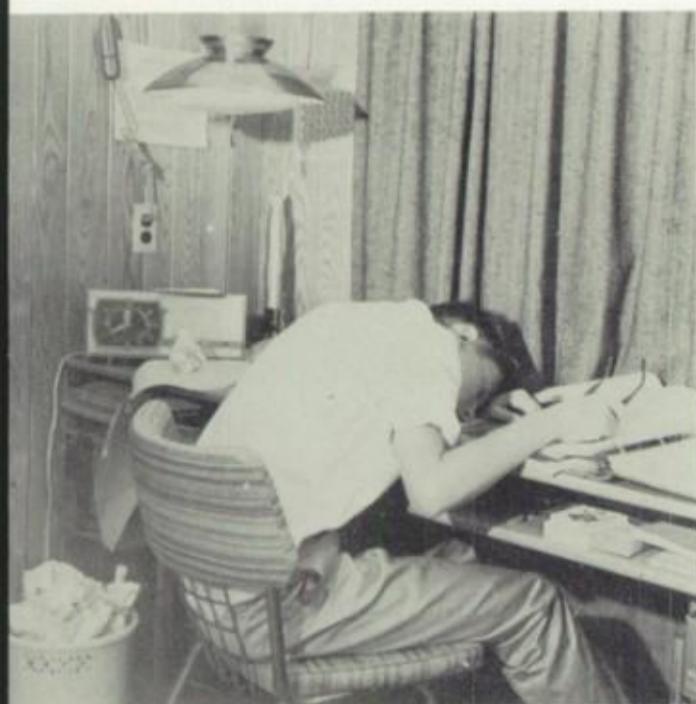

OF THE UNKNOWN

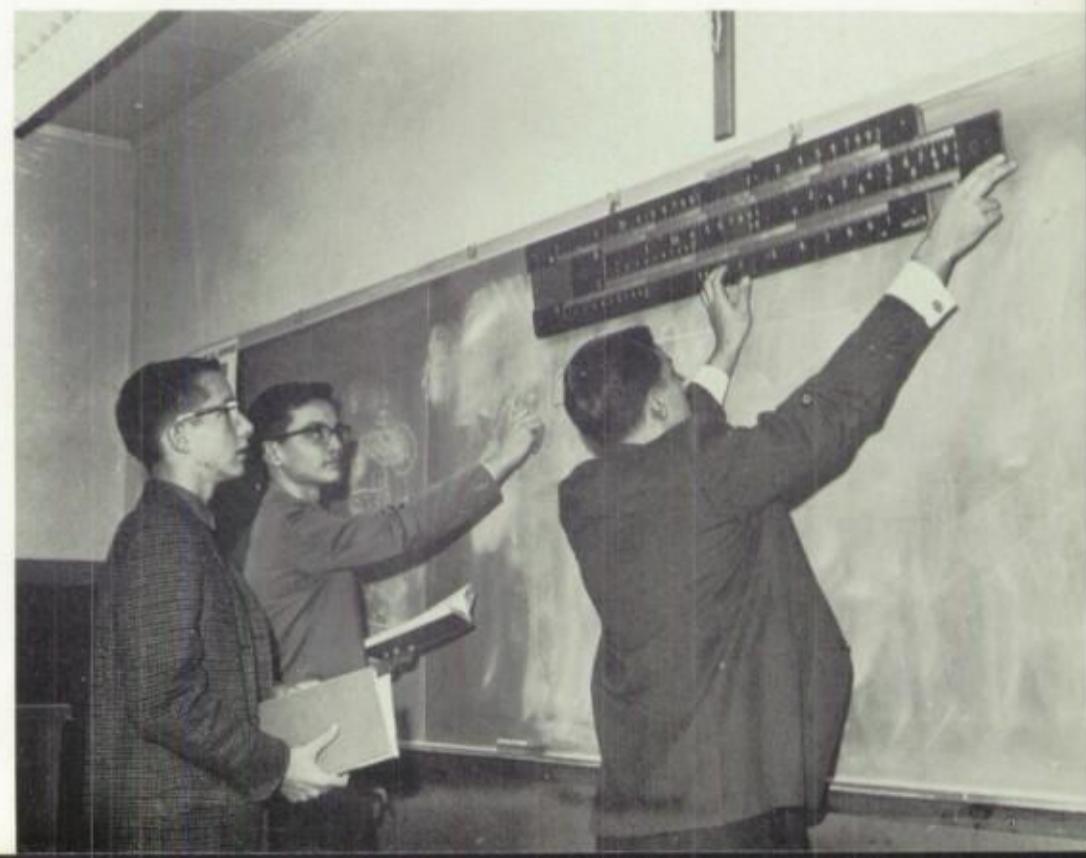

Marshall Pierson, Tom Grimes, and Steve Englehart work homework problems on the board for the class to examine.

Brother Richard Johnson instructs his geometry class on the use of the compass, a basic instrument in geometry.

Denny Hoskins, Tim Scanlan, and Jim Mungo practice using the school's king-sized slide rule used for their advanced math class.

Intrigued by the magic of pulleys, Ralph Tucker, Dan Conroy, Dave Martin, and Jim Lisic watch closely as Brother Donard explains the system.

In this Atomic Age of satellites and space travel, science is being stressed more than at any previous time. At the same time, students here at Hoban realize the importance of a basic understanding of the sciences. Our science program is designed to keep up with and cope with the increasing number of problems around us. Excellent laboratory facilities provide the student with the opportunity to handle the practical and theoretical aspects of science. Through the study of these sciences—biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics,—the student is surely more capable of understanding and comprehending the physical world around him.

CHALLENGING THE FRONTIERS

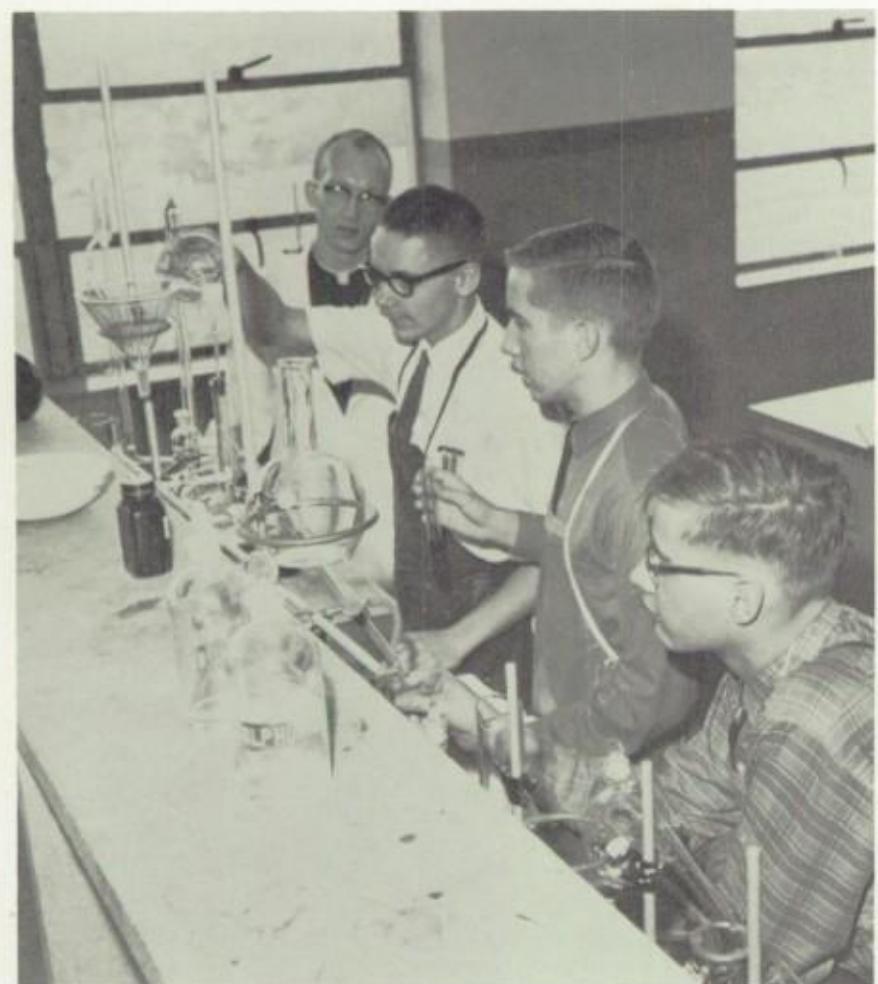

Previewing the day's classes calls for serious study from these arrivals long before morning classes get underway.

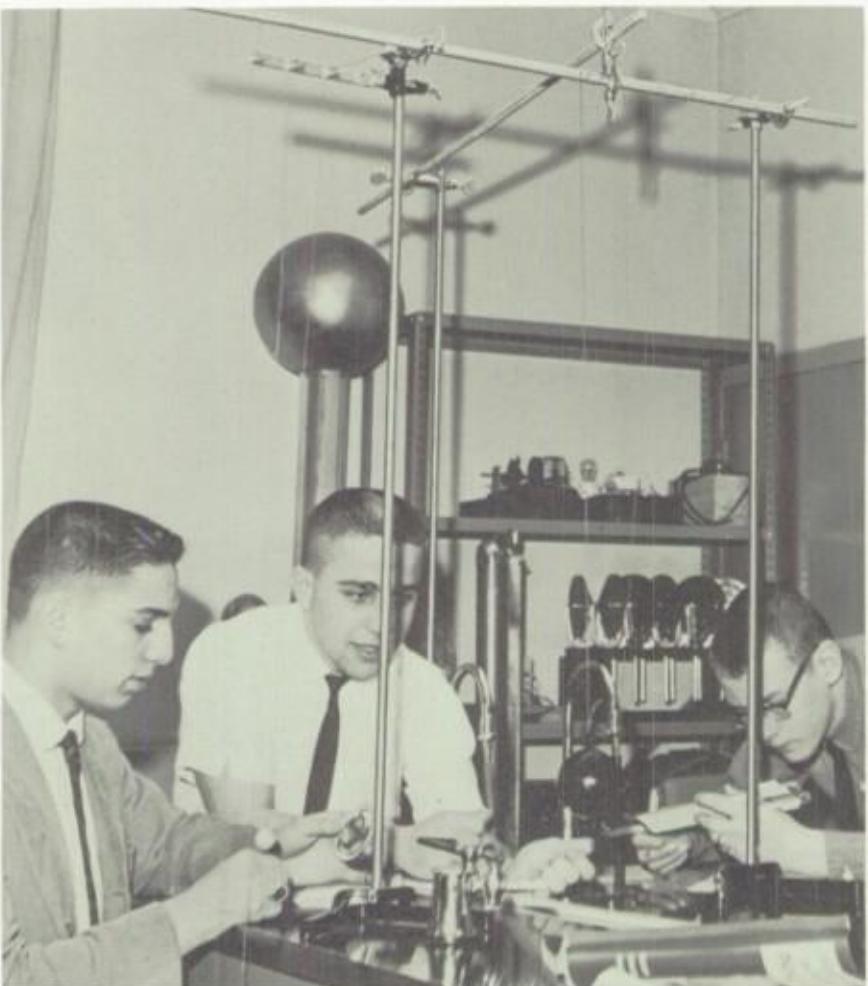

Lab periods in biology class brings hustle and bustle preparing and observing specimens and cleaning up afterwards. Brother Marius gives directions from the sidelines and assists individual students.

OF THE WORLD OF SCIENCE

Under the direction of Brother Robert Leamnson juniors Jim Michalec, Denny Hoskins, and Larry Herman, run through a lab experiment in chemistry.

Mike Harvey and Louis Mahony experiment with pendulums as Bill Thomson works calculations for the experiment.

Dave Cooper and Paul Testa direct Bill Prem in tracing de Gama's sailing route on a shaky world, steadied by the hand of Brother Eugene.

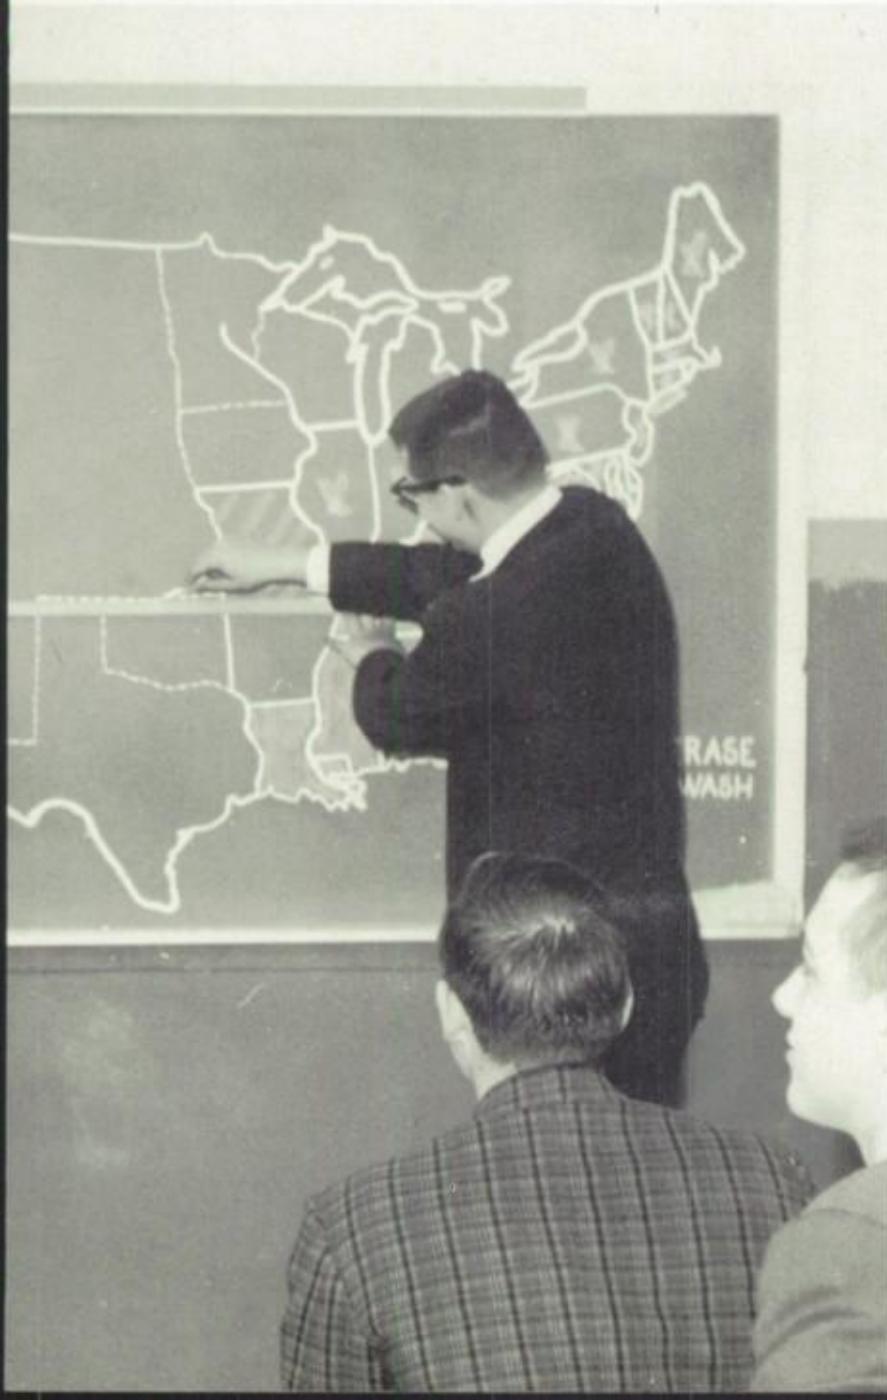

Clayton Samels, with help from Tim Garrett, adds more states to the Union under the critical eye of Brother Charles McBride.

UNDERSTANDING OUR HERITAGE

Our ever increasing scope of world knowledge is developed in the social sciences. Without a basic concept of what our fellow man has done and what he is doing is a definite hindrance to our educational system. The histories not only show us what man has learned, but how he has gone about it. A quick glimpse of history shows not only man's faults but the solutions as well. If a civilization is to prosper, then a definite understanding of the past is necessary. Government is not primarily taught to show us how our country has prospered but to show us the problems they faced and how we can help in democracy. Sociology and economics bring the principles of man's mind to light and show us what one man would do, another would not. They also show us why his ideas of government, religion, and society are different from that of his neighbors.

Staggering world problems are frequently solved in Mr. Weigand's sociology class.

DEVELOPING OUR

The need for a more solidified program of physical education is the talk of many educators. Although there is an ever-increasing number of participants in the athletic program offered by Hoban, it is still not the majority of the students. The main program is directed to the freshmen, with participation in the major and minor sports open to all students. The intramural program provides an opportunity for a good percentage of students to play basketball. The teaching of health also plays an important role in the physical education program. It carefully sets down a set of plans which will, if followed, lead to a healthy body in the years to come.

Gym classes have their "ups" and "downs"—not always together at times.

Jim Urban shoots for the top.

PHYSICAL FITNESS

Brother William explains the functions of the alimentary canal to sophomores in the first period health class.

Mr. Killian directs John Lischak in carrying out a roll on the parallel bars.

"Follow-the-leader" procedures are used by these freshmen to acquire skill on the gym horses and bucks.

Margins, tabs, and keys call for solid concentration from Brother John Lahiff's typing class —all, except Dan Hibinger.

BETTERING OUR UNDERSTANDING OF THE

The commerce department's program was inaugurated at Hoban primarily for the benefit of the student that plans to terminate his education at Hoban. In this department are taught such subjects as book-keeping, business law, and general business. These subjects give the student solutions to problems he may run across in the world of business. They teach him basic skills he will need and the proper way to apply them. Typing, also in the Commerce Department, is taken by those students who want to increase their efficiency and accuracy in this subject. Typing is an invaluable tool for all those contemplating college or a course in business.

Looking up from his books, Angelo Curcio gives us that businessman's viewpoint: "Lookout, World, here I come!"

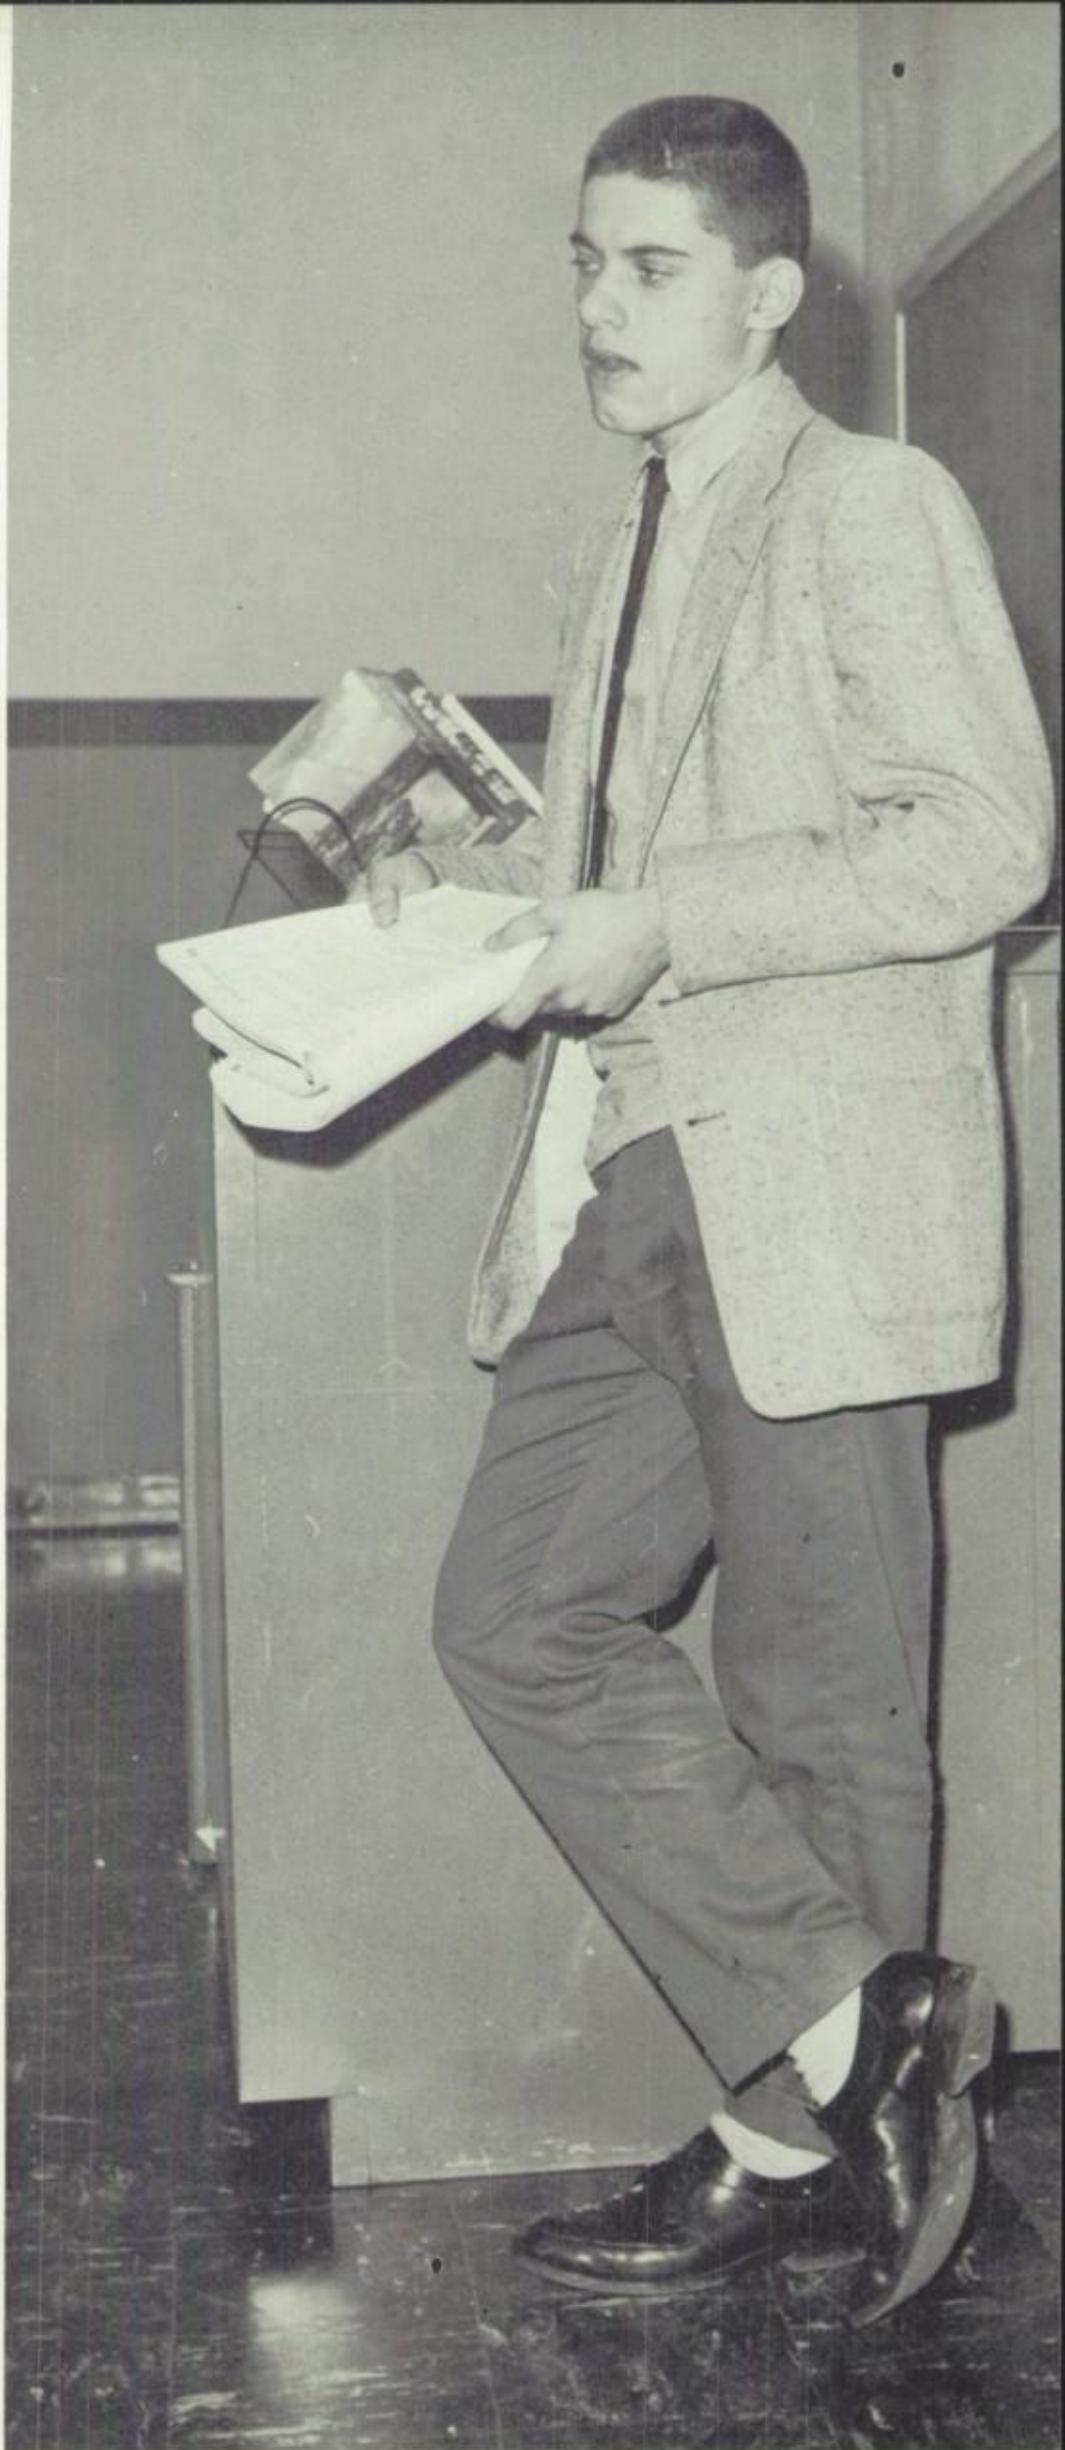

Mr. Schubert explains the fine points of the business world to his first period General Business group.

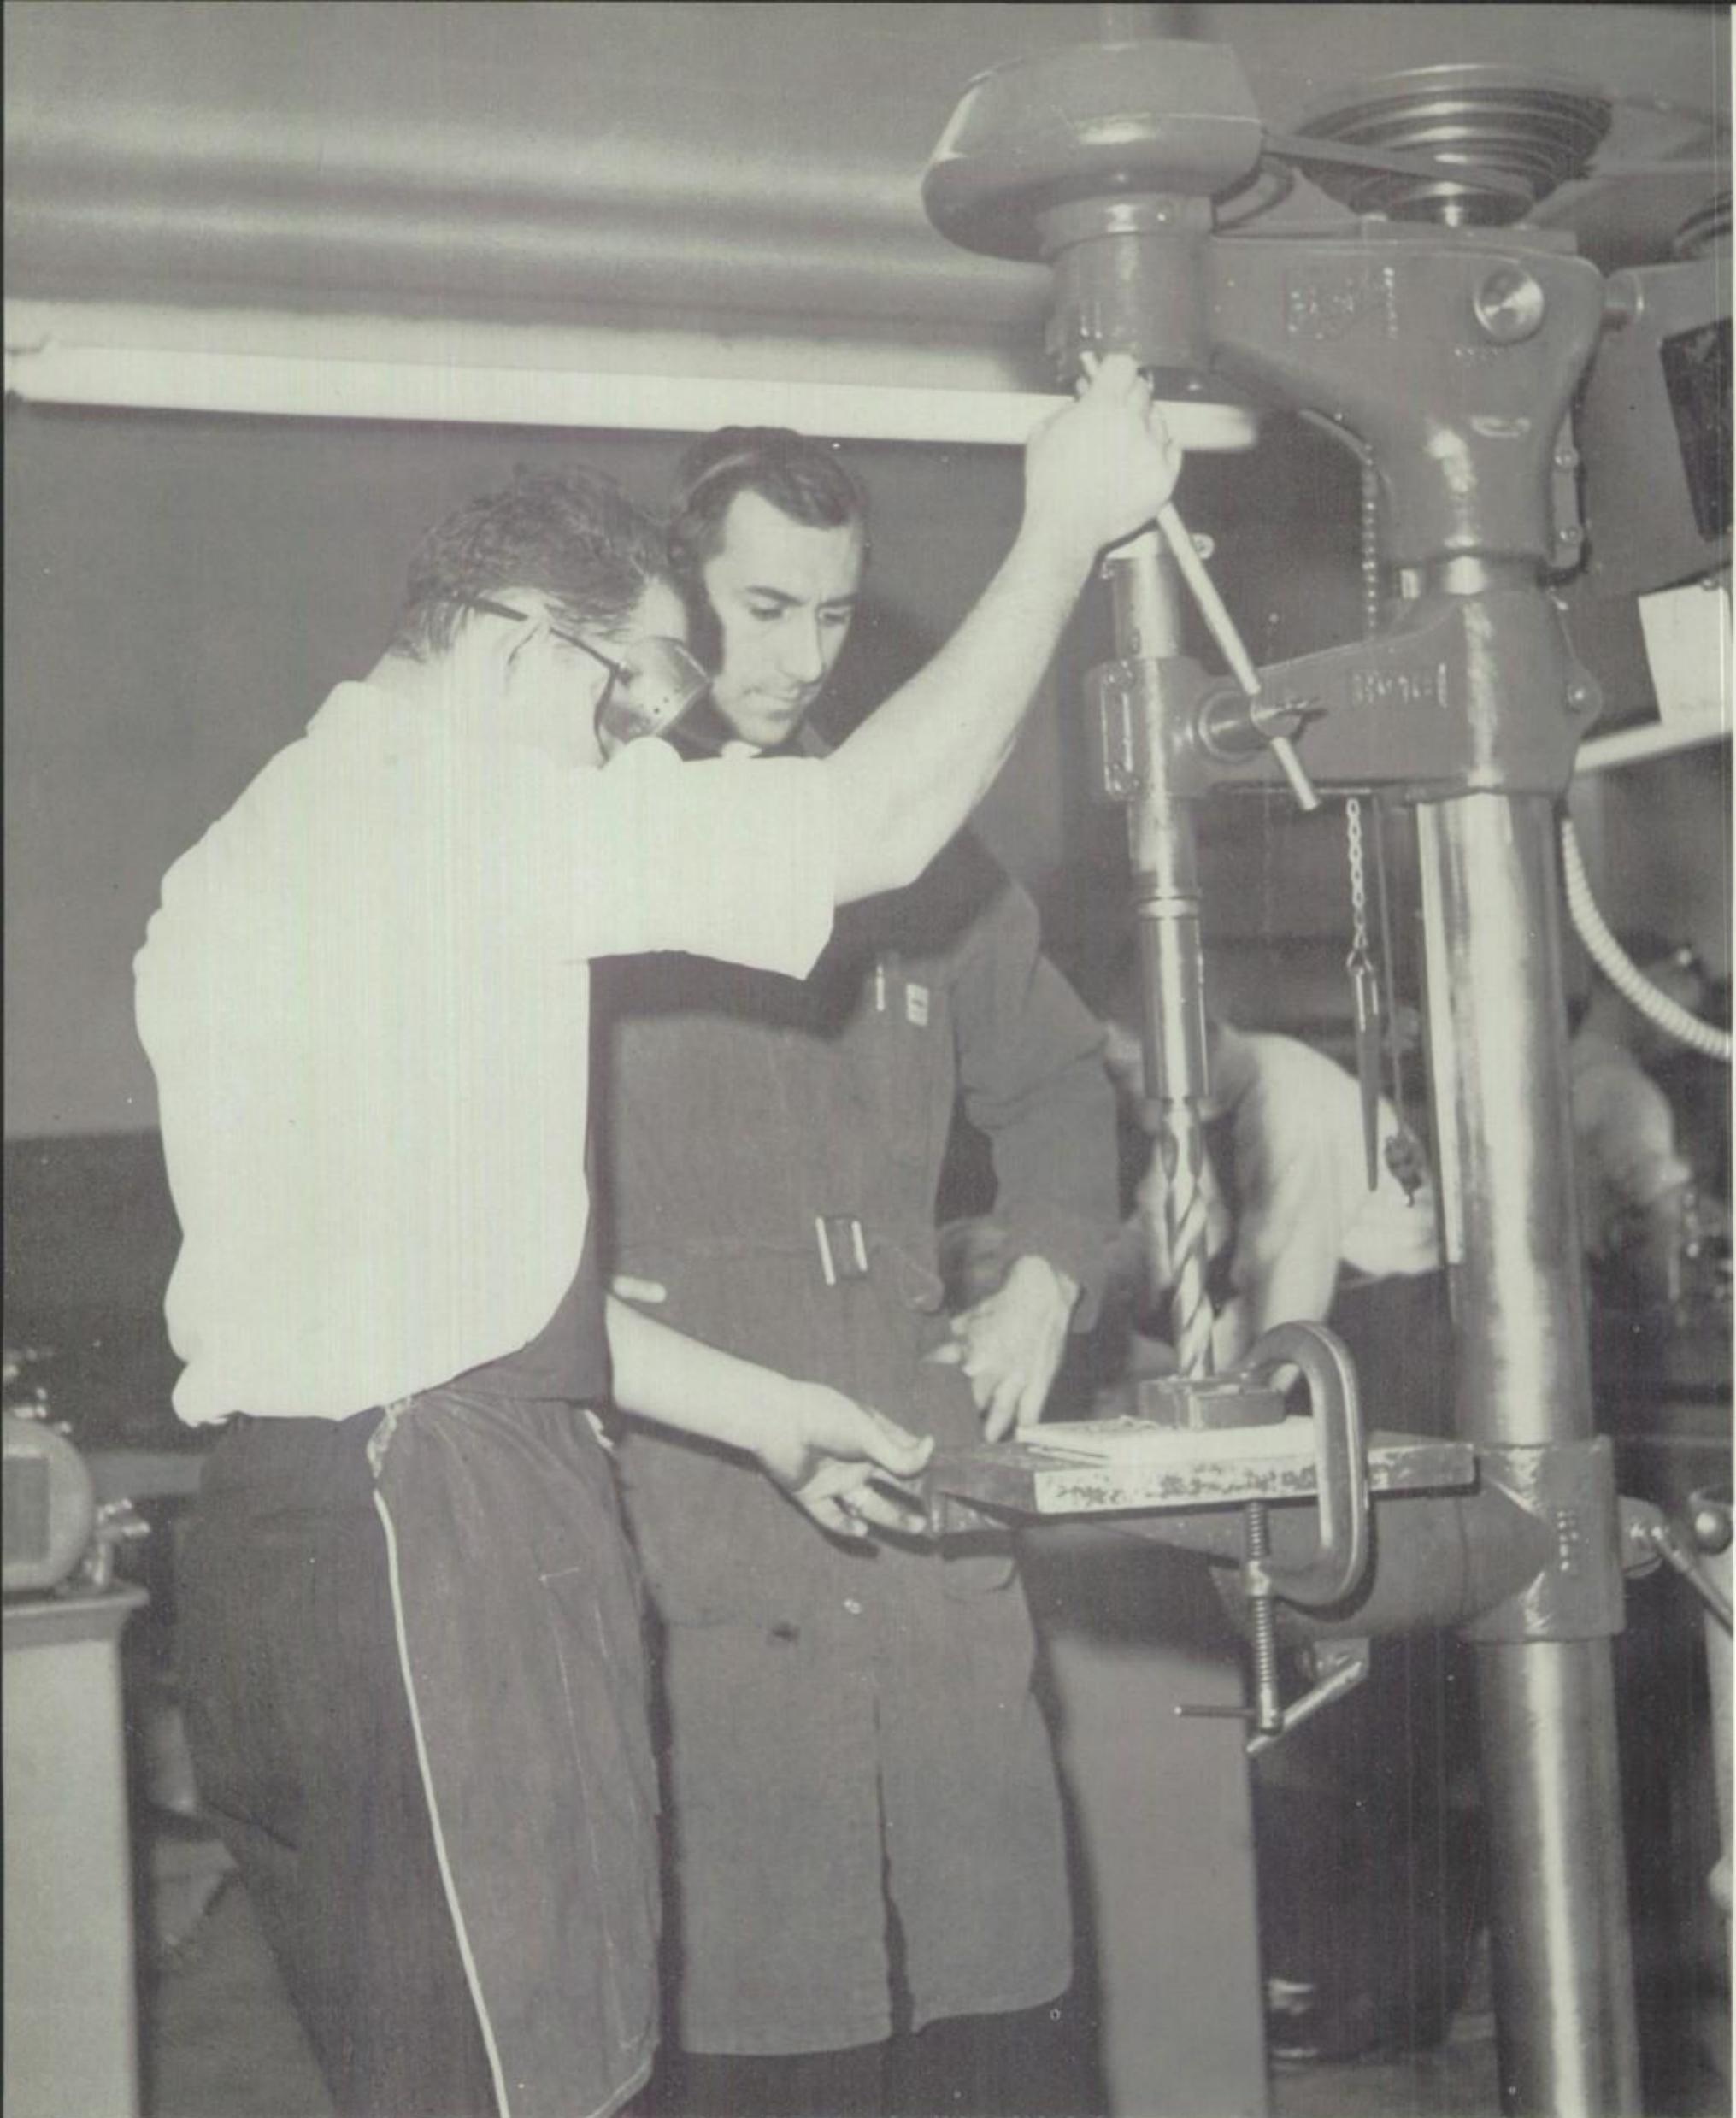

BUSINESS WORLD

The distribution of test booklets in Business Law by Brother Fergus is an anticipated procedure each week.

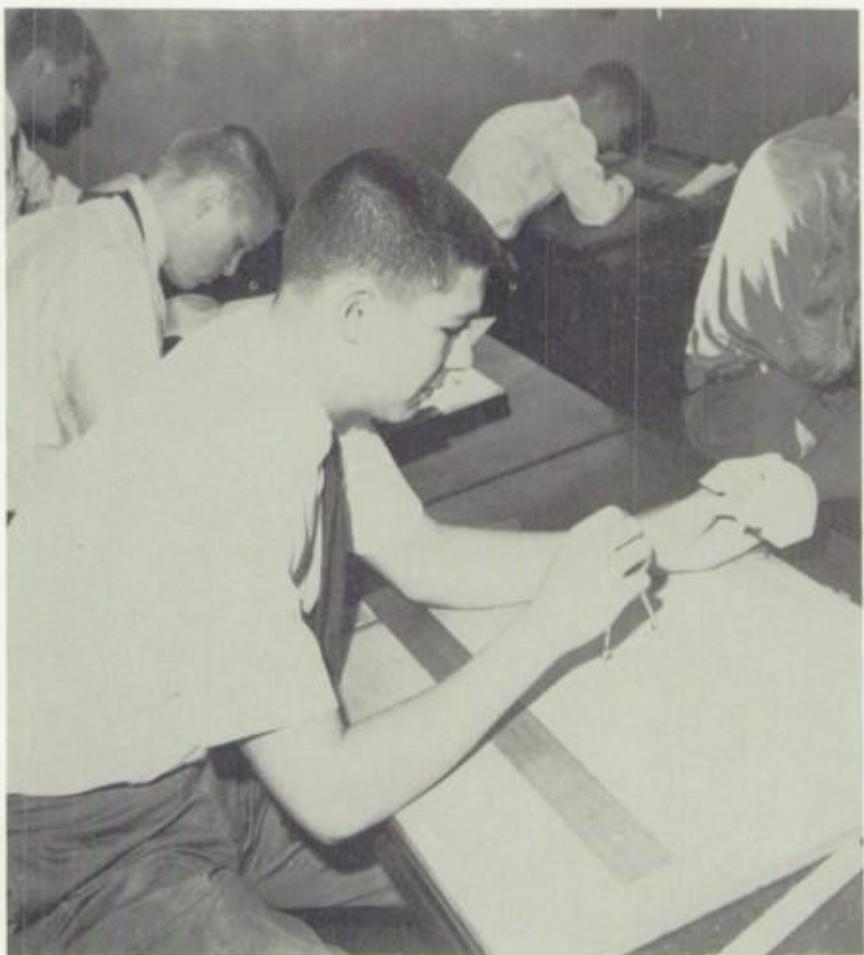

Jim Bedell is stymied by the problems that face future public accountants.

Brother Thomas directs senior Joe Gasper in the proper handling of the twist drill.

Watching the sparks fly from behind protective glasses, Gene Crum and Dick Heisser observe Angelo Cursio make a clean torch cut.

Tom Bialy steadies his compass for an intricate construction in Brother Thomas' mechanical drawing class.

ACQUIRING PRACTICAL SKILLS

Perfection in the education of an individual is only achieved through the induction of practical experiences, along with intellectual endeavors. All subjects, in one way or another, carry with them some practicalities which the student must master in order to be a success. However, some classes possess greater opportunity for acquiring practical experiences. At Hoban these classes are typing, wood shop, metal shop, and mechanical drawing. When the students have acquired this adeptness, they are able to use with great proficiency their hands and the thousands of instruments and implements that are available for utility within all fields of human endeavor. Only when the student has acquired the ability to use his hands and practical instruments can he adapt them to the attainment of intellectual endeavors and, at the same time, increase the capacities of his mind.

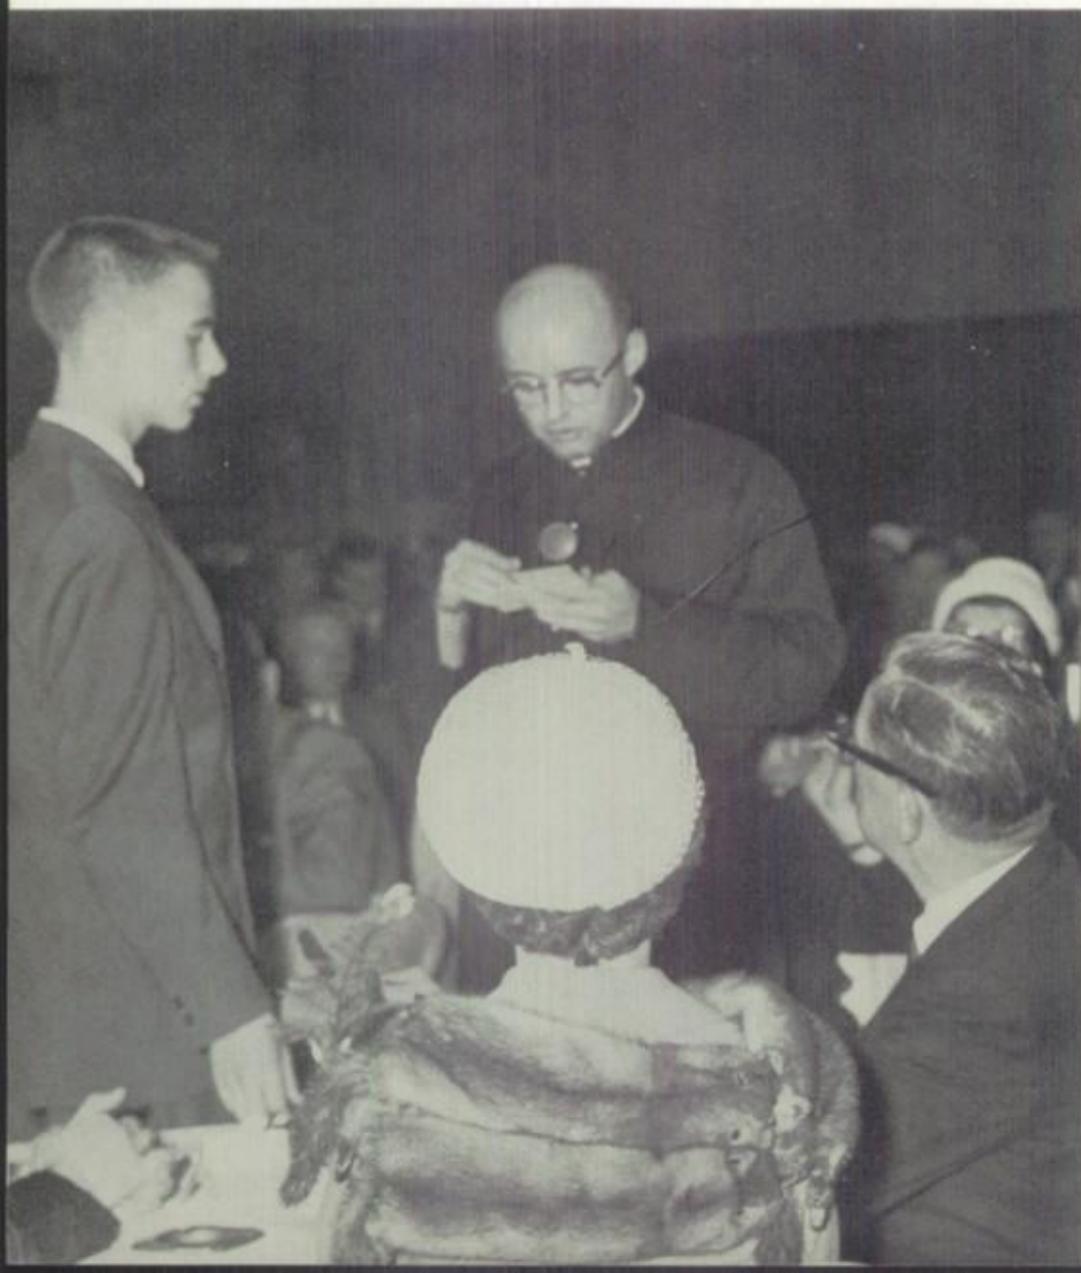

Dave Violette watches John Williams and Bob Lachowski line up a tray end for a joint cutting on the table saw.

On Honor Night, proud parents assemble in the auditorium to watch their sons receive scholastic awards.

RECOGNIZING AND REWARDING

The two main events that culminate a year of academic discipline and that give due recognition for achievement are Awards Night and graduation, each a fitting tribute to those who have strived for academic excellence.

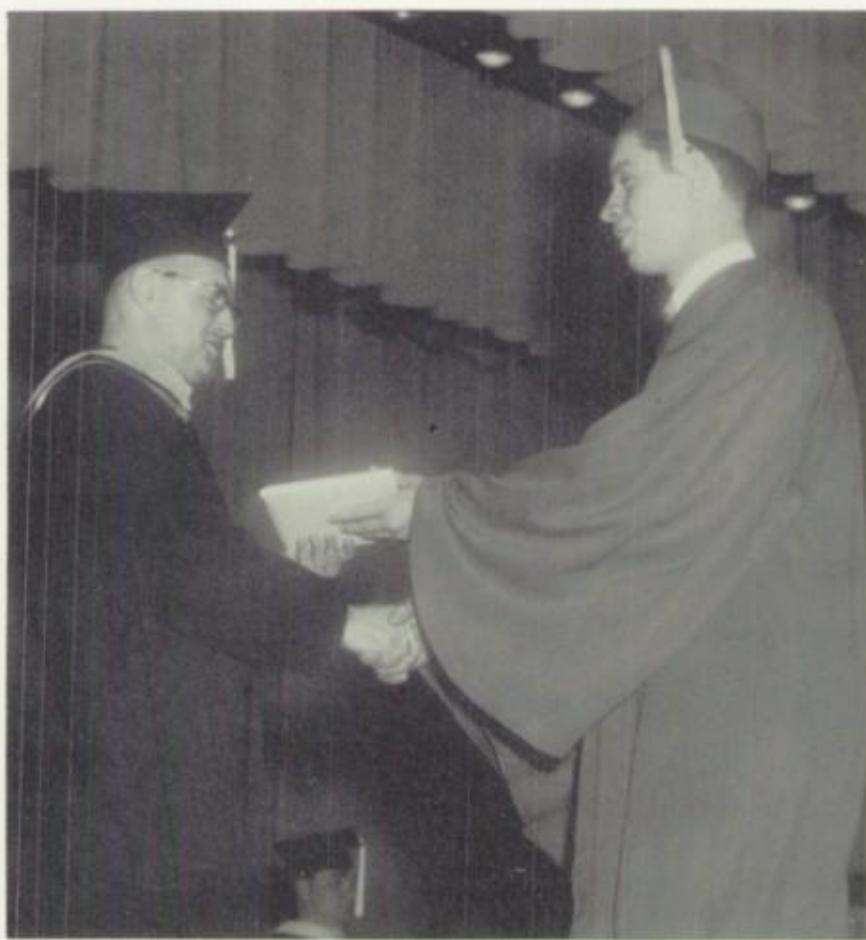

On the evening of May 21, 1961, parents proudly accompanied their sons to the annual Awards Night. Students were recognized for accomplishments in the field of academics, leadership, school spirit, and active participation in the school's many activities.

Graduating seniors came to the full realization of their goal in high school by being graduated from the stage of the school auditorium on Sunday afternoon of June fourth. Dr. Lawrence Baldinger of the Notre Dame School of Science delivered the commencement address. After receiving their coveted diplomas, the seniors made their way out into the ever-challenging, changing world, representing a product of Christian endeavor.

Junior Stuart Clary receives his award from Brother Pedro for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Doctor Lawrence Baldinger, of the School of Sciences at Notre Dame, delivers his commencement address.

Dennis Burgess proudly receives his coveted diploma from Brother Pedro.

SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT

Seniors proceed to receive their long-awaited diplomas and congratulations after four years of academic life at Archbishop Hoban High.

ACTIVITIES

Complementing the rigorous courses of study here at Hoban are the numerous activities and clubs that develop a working, practical knowledge of the subjects themselves, besides affording the students a beneficial, enjoyable pastime. The science clubs, Art Club, Mission Club, the school publications, band, and Glee Club are but a few of the activities available to the interested student. It is this realm of activity that breaks up the monotony of the school day and contributes to a realization of the student's personality. It is also this realm of activity — clubs, organizations, and publications — that endeavors to develop manual skills that may later be of much use to the individual. Displays, movies, tournaments, and projects all reflect fostered attitudes of interest and enjoyment.

STUDENT COUNCIL ENJOYS SUCCESSES

When there is some school activity that calls for organization and leadership, the Student Council of Hoban High is called upon to carry it out. Under the leadership of Student Council Moderator Brother John Benesh and Student Council President Steve Sitko, the group successfully launched and saw completion of The World's Finest Chocolate drive, and a canned food drive for the poor of the Akron area. The group's agenda was filled with numerous other activities, including post-game dances and seasonal semi-formal socials. This year, as in the past, the Student Council has led the school in progress toward an enriched program of student leadership.

Brother John Benesh, Student Council moderator, sizes up the situation prior to the launching of the World's Finest Chocolate drive.

Many Hobanites not only collected food for the needy of the Akron area but also helped with its distribution.

Student Council President Steve Sitko, assisted by Bill Clerkin and Al Rolland, sort the ever-growing mound of canned goods.

Santa and his Stow helpers proudly show their contribution of 1,200 cans of food during the height of the Student Council Drive.

GETS NEW FACE

Starting early in the spring of '61, the co-editors, Terry Goddard and Jerry Leyden, and moderator Brother Harold Ruplinger, set to work organizing the staff and format for the '62 WAY. In mid-autumn, the entire staff was functioning and laying the groundwork for a type of yearbook entirely new to the school.

Each week brought more pictures, identifications, and writeups; and each deadline marked a step closer to the finished product. By the first of the year the staff was busy filling in the body of the already shaped publication. The middle of March saw the finishing touches being put on the WAY, which was ready for printing.

This edition of the '62 WAY represents much devoted time, many late hours, and a lot of hard work by the editors, moderator, and staff.

Underclassmen Dave Sinar, Art Wisniewski (front), John O'Breza, Clayton Samuels, and Chuck Zodrow (back) help type copy in the yearbook room.

TRUTH STAFF MAKES PROGRESS

Keeping the student body up to date on what happened during the '61-62 school year was the TRUTH, the school newspaper. For the first time in the school's history, the paper was sent out for processing, enabling the staff and moderator to devote more time to its content. Several journalism clinics held throughout the year greatly helped to improve the quality of the paper. Gregory Collins headed the staff, assisted by Jim Fryer. Brother John Aubry supervised the publication as moderator.

This publication was distributed to the students in their respective homerooms, and it provided an insight into a number of problems concerning school life, besides providing informative feature, news, and sport stories throughout the year.

NEW DIRECTOR COMES TO HOBAN BAND

True Hoban Spirit can best be seen through the eyes of the band. Its appearance at every major school event is a Hoban tradition. Playing for all football and most home basketball games, for concerts, dances, parents meetings, and assemblies, the band is an essential part of the school spirit. Under the leadership of their new band director, Brother Stephen Davis, the band performed precision drills and picturesque formations for every football half-time show. The band participated in a program of exchange concerts with Cleveland St. Edward's, and in conjunction with the glee club, presented a fine Christmas assembly program.

In addition to a fine spring concert, the band and glee club members combined with girls from the Elms and St. Mary's to perform a new musical comedy, CHECK YOUR WORRIES.

An important component of the Music Department, the Bluejackets, provided danceable music for all after-game dances, parents' dances, and several outside groups. The Bluejackets also served as the pit band for CHECK YOUR WORRIES; and for MR. CRANE OF SLEEPY HOLLOW, which was presented by the music and dramatic departments of Our Lady of the Elms Academy.

The Marching Band was under the field direction of Band Captain and Drum Major James Falanga. Jim, along with the other officers—Ted Dohner, John Willmott, Jim Urbanic, and Leonard Nalencz, helped Brother Stephen become acquainted with and adjusted to the habits and traditions at Hoban.

GLEE CLUB ENHANCES MUSICAL LIFE

Under the direction of Brother Sigismund, this year's Glee Club has done much to further musical appreciation in the school. The club had twenty-four members, which was not quite as many as in previous years. Despite their small number, their accomplishments were many.

During the Christmas season, they answered some of their many requests from civic and local organizations asking for carols. This spring they again served as the backbone of the vocal portion of the school musical. The rest of the year was spent preparing a varied repertoire ranging from Palestrina to Hindsmith. The club officers are President, Kenneth Dannemiller; Vice-President, Thomas Sullivan; Secretary, John Zeno; Treasurer, Philip Howard; and Librarian, Edward Riegler.

Conducting the members in a stirring melody, Br. Sigismund calls for enunciation.

"STARDUST" SWEEPS HOBAN SCENE

Early in December the curtain rolled back for the first performance of "Stardust," the 1961 presentation of the Hoban Student Theatre. The production concerned a college dramatics school whose students are taught to live all the parts they portray on the stage. A hilarious situation ensued when a Broadway actress visited the school and found the students practicing to be tadpoles, keyholes and sliced oranges.

"Marriage is vulgar! Society is vulgar!" shouted the devoted professor of dramatics, played by Jack Zeno. Martha Durbak brought to life the part of Prudence Mason, the Broadway actress. Marianne Marzano was Janet Ross, a student at the school, where marriage and a career didn't mix. Phil Ford, an art student in love with Janet, was played by Greg Collins. Tim Palmer portrayed the Hollywood agent, Jerry Flanagan. The play was written by Walter Kerr and directed by Brother Leonardo, C.S.C.

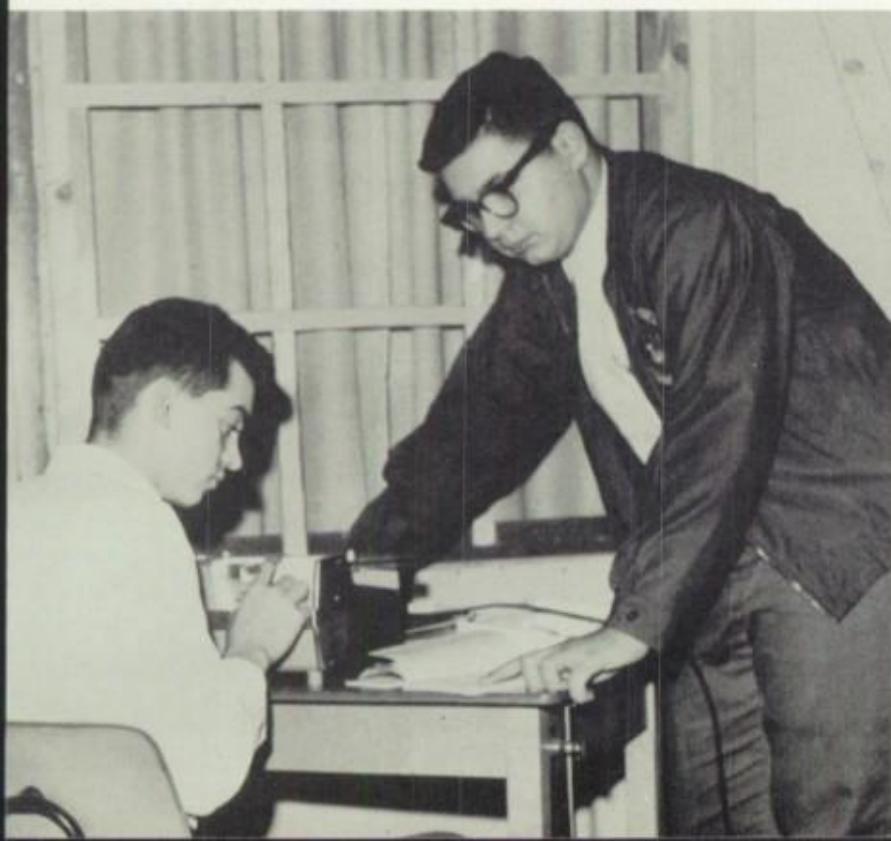

Professor Bach asks his students when his guest, Prudence Mason, will arrive.

Jerry Flanagan introduces himself to Prudence Mason and pleasantly surprises the students.

Stagemanagers Jim Lisic and Tom Pinto go over last-minute preparations before opening night.

The play's director, Brother Leonardo, shows exactly what action he desires during the performance, while prompters Bob Lapadot and Jim Semonin listen intently.

Backstage fears are alleviated as Bill Thompson relates a humorous anecdote before going on.

"Aw, Janet, you just don't understand," says Greg Collins to Marianne Marzano.

Professor Bach explains the disciplines of drama to his attentive students.

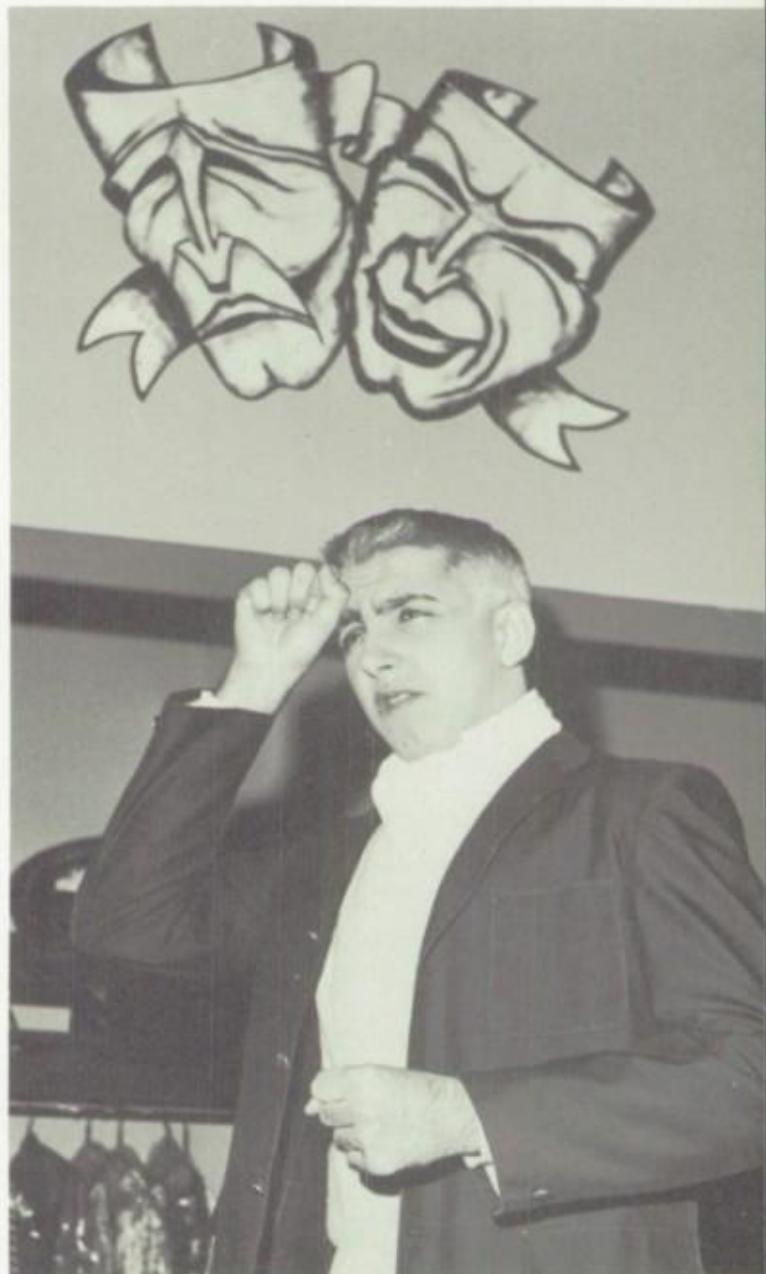

BEHIND THE SCENES

It was with the help of those behind the scenes that STARDUST was a smashing hit. Mrs. Joseph Tulenko, in charge of make-up, did an excellent job of contrasting facial tones with the lighting. The set constructions of Brothers Thomas and Vincent made the stage into a true office of a drama school. Decor, handled by Brother Harold, added the finishing touches to the production. Also adding their talents to the production were the prompters, Bob Lapadot and Jim Semonin, and Ed Riegler, who handled the lighting.

The Dean of Women, portrayed by Sharon Berg, informs Phil Ford of her decision to close the forth-coming production.

Professor Bach has endless production problems from the beginning of the play to the final curtain.

FORENSICS AND DEBATE TEAM

Hoban's Debate Team completed its first season of full-time debate this year. The group grew quickly from its modest beginnings to a membership of twelve students participating in interchangeable varsity and reserve teams throughout the season. Many of these members, working with the Forensics Team, exhibited their skill in individual-events competition.

The Debate Team was initiated, trained, and guided this year by moderators, Brother Joseph Chvala and Mr. William Semonin. These men led the group through its series of weekly contests in both Akron and Cleveland.

The debate season culminated in the Akron District Debate Tournament at Akron University on February 17. In its four months of regular competition, three of the team's members attained over 150 N.F.L. (National Forensics League) competition points, while five others earned 75 N.F.L. points, a substantial record for the first season of competition.

SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL SOCIAL

SOCIAL

The '61-'62 school year abounded with activity on the social scene. A dull moment was hard to find, because the social calendar was stretched from September to June to include a variety of dances, get-togethers, and social activities for all. As an integral part of Hoban life, social activities helped round out the personalities being produced by the many other facets of student life. The art of meeting and conversing with other people is important in our quest for sociability; this year, we have had many chances to mix with and meet new friends. The Christmas Dance, victory dances after the games, the Valentine and Easter Dances, and especially the Junior Prom and Senior Ball will always linger in our memory as highlights of the social year. These events are surely an indication of Hoban spirit. But the real spirit of Hoban goes deeper, penetrating into the many family gatherings, and at length into everyday life.

In this, the Social Section of the WAY, we reflect upon the vivid and contrasting social activities spread over the entire year.

WHEN STUDENTS GET TOGETHER

The main events in the social life at Hoban are the dances, some of which are sponsored by the Student Council as well as the various classes.

The first big dance of the year was the Halloween Dance on October 14. The students had a fun-filled evening as they danced to the music of Lou Ciriano.

The freshmen, however, formally entered the social scene at Hoban on November 24, at the Freshman Party. The night was touched off with music by the Swing Band.

Football and basketball fans also had relaxing evenings at the post-game dances after most of the home games.

The Student Council and the Alumni Christmas dances added gaiety to the festive season. The atmosphere of a "Winter Wonderland" greeted the Hoban socialites.

Hobanites and their dates danced to the music of Don Taylor on February 10, at the Valentine Dance. This year's dance was sponsored by the junior class in conjunction with the Student Council. The Easter season was also brought alive by the annual Easter Dance held on April 22.

To complete the social events for the sophomores, juniors, and seniors were the Cotillion, Junior Prom and Senior Ball held in the school auditorium in May.

ATHLETICS

On February 20, 1962, the American people became fully aware of the ideal goal of physical fitness, as Col. John Glenn, USMC, was shot skyward in the first American attempt to orbit a man. He was a symbol of what every American—every Hobanite—hopes to be. For John Glenn is a model of a sound man. Through rigorous exercise day by day he kept himself in top physical shape.

It can be readily seen, that if America is to keep up with its well-founded rate of progress, more men like Glenn must be produced, and physical education and development on the secondary school level are necessary to attain this. In order to obtain physical and mental excellence, we must be provided with sufficient activities and facilities. The student at Hoban has a great number of sports from which to choose. Varsity sports, such as football, basketball, track, and many others are supplemented by an adequate intramural program.

As the underclassmen will certainly admit, their gym classes are strenuous and at times very difficult and physically trying. However, the ideal goal of the athletic program would be to produce men as physically fit and mentally alert as John Glenn. With this in mind, in this section we present a few reflections on athletic education and competition during the '61-'62 year.

"We're Proud of Our Team" theme commemorated the football season as individual players received their well-earned awards.

PEP RALLIES SPARK SPIRIT

With wild applause for its team, and enraptured silence for the encouraging words of the coaches, the Athletic Director, the Principal, and class representatives, the Hoban student body displayed the traditional school spirit at the many assemblies held throughout the basketball and football seasons. Particularly with the introduction of the school's new alma mater, the band keyed the enthusiasm with which the assemblies were carried out. Frequent pep rallies were the many ways in which we sang out "We're proud of our teams!"

HOBAN ELEVEN DISPLAY UNDYING SPIRIT

Playing the roughest schedule the Hoban Knights have ever faced, the 1961 rendition of the Hoban football team posted a 2-7 season, recording the first losing season in their short five-year football history. In the opening game of the season, the Knights defeated Saint Edward. Drawing first blood, the Eagles scored in the first 29 seconds of play on a 50-yard pass-play from Tom Coughlen to Frank Bonza. The charging Hoban line, however, was able to smother the conversion attempt. Undaunted by first period results, the Knights drove back in the second period to score. The tally was set up on a 35-yard pass-play from Marty Lappin to Mike Harvey. The actual score was made by Lappin on a 1-yard plunge. Dick BoDahely then kicked the conversion which gave the Knights the margin of victory. After the tally by the Knights, both teams were hampered by intercepted passes. The final score was Hoban 7, Saint Edward 6.

In a hotly contested game, the Knights lost to a traditional rival, Barberton. It was a heartbreaking 7-6 loss. As in our previous game, the opposition scored first, after a Magic had recovered a fumble on the Hoban 24 yard line. After Barberton's Patterson scored on a pass from Moller, John Biggs kicked what was to be the winning point, and made the score

7-0. The Knights finally scored in the second period when Mike Urbano capped a 74-yard drive with a 6-yard dash, only to have the conversion fail. The rest of the game was scoreless, but the Knights put up a terrific fight controlling the ball the majority of the time and barely missing on two field goal attempts.

Lacking the ability to score consistently, the Knights dropped their third game to Canton Timken in a 14-6 upset, giving the Knights a 1-2 record. Timken scored in the first and fourth periods on a 75-yard run and an 80-yard drive by Gary Lyons and John Duncan respectively. Hoban's only score came in the third period on a run by Mike Urbano. The drive itself was touched off by a 47-yard punt return.

Finding no end to the touchdown drought, the Hoban Eleven dropped the fourth game to Canton Lincoln at St. Mary's Stadium by a score of 12-0. Denny McFadden set up and scored the first Lincoln touchdown in the second period. George Slackford added the insurance, breaking through the Hoban line and running 70 yards for the tally. This was the Knight's third consecutive loss.

Finally finding the long-awaited T.D. punch, the Knights rolled over state-rated and very powerful Salem by the score of 28-8. Mike Urbano led the scoring with 14 points and was followed by Marty Lappin and Mike Harvey with each six, and finally, by Dick BoDahley with 2. The record was then 2-3.

In the next game, Hoban lost to arch-rival St. Vincent in a game at the Rubber Bowl by the score 55-18. The Knights were unable to compete with the strong Irish attack, but were finally able to break the scoring ice with two touchdowns by Tom Moore, and one by Pete Baldacci.

Journeying to Canton, the Knights lost another game to a state-rated team, Canton Central Catholic by a score of 38-6. The sole Hoban tally was made by Mike Urbano.

Having lost all possibilities of a winning season and depending heavily upon juniors, the Knights dropped their sixth game of the year as they lost to Cuyahoga Falls in a 25-12 contest. The only Hoban scores came on a run by Tom Moore and a pass from Ed Lieberth to Jerry Savoy.

Disappointment filled the entire Hoban scene as the Knights closed the season with a 14-8 loss to Akron South. The Cavaliers won the game on an intercepted pass by Ray Moore. The Knights scored through Mike Harvey with the team of Jerry Savoy and Ed Lieberth making the conversion.

HOBAN KNIGHTS HAVE TRYING SEASON

The 1961-'62 Hoban Knights basketball team in the course of the season compiled an overall record of three wins and fifteen losses.

The Knights opened the season with a 57-44 loss to the perennial power, Akron South. The Cavaliers led all the way, as evidenced by the half-time score of 26-19. Mike Urbano turned in a beautiful performance for the losers, tallying 20 points.

For their second game the Knights traveled to Canton, but lost to the powerful Canton Central Catholic Crusaders by a score of 58-29. The night was marked by a particularly poor shooting average, which partly accounted for the low score.

Even the Christmas season brought no wins for the Knights as they lost to Tallmadge on Dec. 22, by a margin of 66-55. Hoban led for the first and second periods, but was unable to control the Blue Devils as they tallied for 26 points in the third period.

Hoban next played Akron Central and lost. The Wildcat 67-50 victory was ignited by Bruce Moore, who scored 28 points.

Misfortune continued to rain upon the Knights as they lost a heated 57-55 game to Mansfield Madison. It appeared the Knights would win as they led through most of the game, but they were able to score only two points in the last period.

The Knights reversed their losing streak on Jan. 6 when they met and defeated the Coventry Comets. The two high scorers for Hoban in their first victory were Ed Lieberth and Mike Urbano. This was the first Hoban win in six starts.

Hoban dropped the next game to the Barberton Magics in a virtual 65-46 route. The Knights were led all the way. This put the season record at 1 and 6. Mike Urbano was high man for both teams with 24 points. Beating Akron St. Mary's on Jan. 12, Hoban picked up its second win of the year. The Knights jumped to an early lead and had no trouble pulling out a 62-47 victory.

But winning was not to be the forte of the Knights this season, for in the next game they met the undefeated St. Vincent Irish, who rolled over them. The Knights were no match for the Irish, who amassed 82 points to Hoban's 47.

Canton Timken defeated the Knights by a score of 62-54 although they only held a one point lead at halftime.

On the following night the Knights lost to Kenmore. They were unable to stop the Cardinals even after they had been able to contain Kenmore's scoring threat, Gary Bishop.

After their first loss of the season, St. Vincent came roaring back and meted out vengeance on Hoban with an 81-61 romp over the Knights. This was the second time of the year that the Irish had beaten Hoban.

Hoban next lost to Mansfield St. Peter by the score of 106-59. The Knights were far outclassed and the outcome of the game was never in doubt.

Hoban dropped her next two games to Akron Buchtel and Lakewood St. Edward's by the respective scores of 80-66 and 60-51. It was against Buchtel that John Rudy of Hoban exploded for the season high of 27 points.

Winning their third game of the year proved to be easy as the Knights easily handed Hower a 69-59 defeat. Led by Tim Garrett's 21 points, the Knights jumped to an early lead and were able to maintain it with ease.

The Knights next met the ever powerful Cuyahoga Falls and fell to them by the score of 72-49. Falls was led by Gary Miller who tallied for 28 points against the Knights.

The Knights dropped the last game of their regular season to Canton Lincoln who far outclassed our cagers. The game was highlighted by Bill Gribble who got 42 points against Hoban and accounted largely for the Lions 86-62 victory. Mike Urbano of the Knights also showed spirit as he tallied for 24 points for the Knights.

The last game of the season was a 81-34 loss to Cuyahoga Falls in tournament play.

The Knights showed great improvement this year under Mr. Schubert, our head Coach. Although they compiled a 3-15 record for the season, the record is deceiving, for the Knights played a rough schedule. Mr. Schubert has high hopes for the future for he is losing only three seniors, Captain Mike Urbano, Steve Sitko and Denny Kraus, while next year he will have such standout juniors as Tim Garrett, Ed Lieberth, Jim Yareff and John Rudy and many more returning.

Hectic game moments have Buchtel's Bill Downey and Hoban's Mike Urbano searching confusedly for the ball.

BASKETBALL AND WRESTLING INTRAMURALS

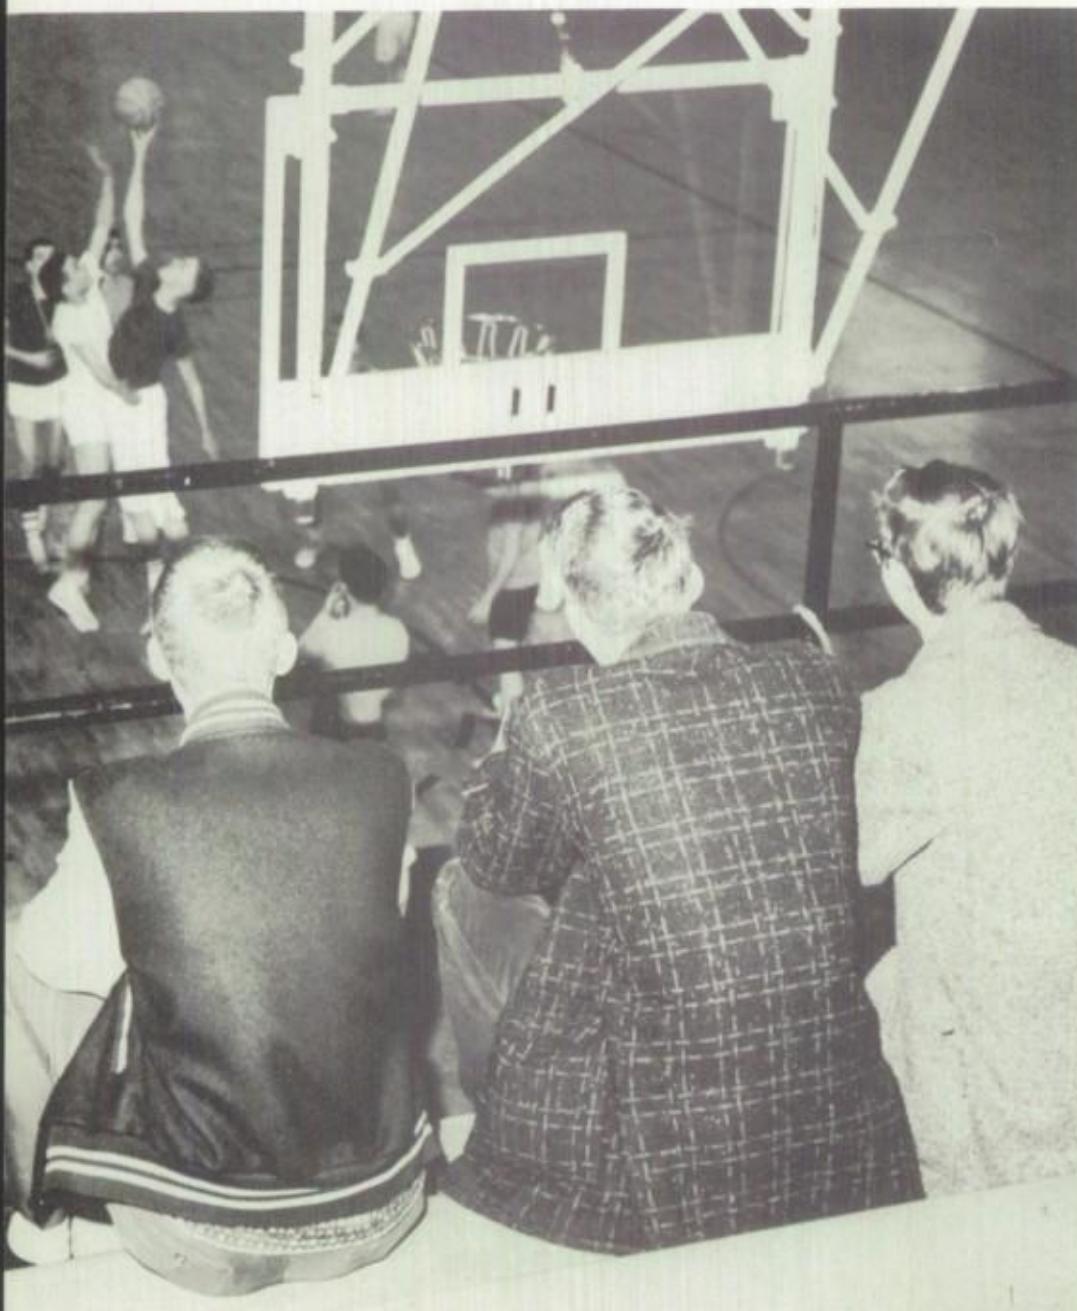

Attracting the largest number of participants, the intramural program, under the direction of Brother William (first semester) and Brother Jerome (second semester), provided feverish activity in the gymnasium during the winter season. Ten teams in each of the two leagues that were formed came on Saturday mornings to battle amidst fouls and missed shots. After the regular season of play, an elimination tournament was held to decide the champs. The SPEARCHUCKERS defeated the BEATNIKS for the League I title, and in League II the GROUP II toppled the RAIDERS, the only undefeated team in season play.

Seniors vs. seniors, seniors vs. faculty—these were the two arrangements of games in the Sunday league. The faculty proved itself better, however, by compiling the best season record of the team combinations.

Coaches Baldacci and Jebber organized an intramural wrestling team early in the second semester and presented the final match to an enthusiastic Hoban assembly on March 14.

TANKMEN BOAST ENVIABLE RECORD

Brother Fergus, assisted by Brother Donan, coached the Hoban Swim Team to another successful season in the pool. Captain Pat McDonald, the only Hoban tanker to make the finals in a state meet, placed sixth in the state in the Individual Medley (200 yards). Ed Steinmetz finished eighth in the state in the Individual Medley of the preliminaries.

During the regular season, the team edged Coventry by a close 39-38, passed a determined Kenmore team by 40-36, defeated North with an easy 48-29, and won over South, 55-22; Garfield, 60-17; and Central, 57-20. In the winning column, the Knights toppled Gilmour Academy by a technical with the score reading 44-33.

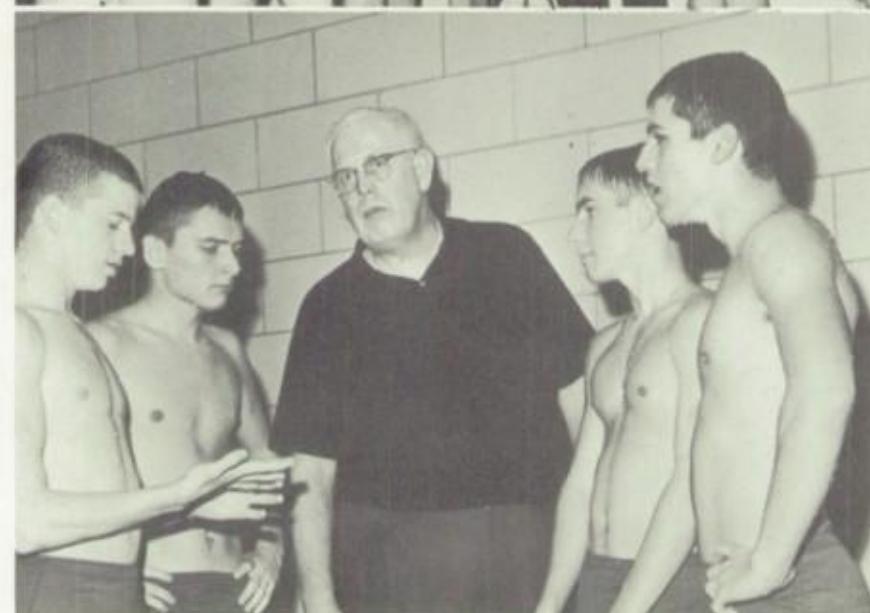

The only losses encountered were from East with a score of 42-35, Buchtel with a 50-27 trounce, and the Falls by a close 54-32.

In a post-season four-way meet at Gilmour Academy, Hoban placed third; Kiski Prep taking first place, Gilmour second, and Cleveland Hawkins finishing last.

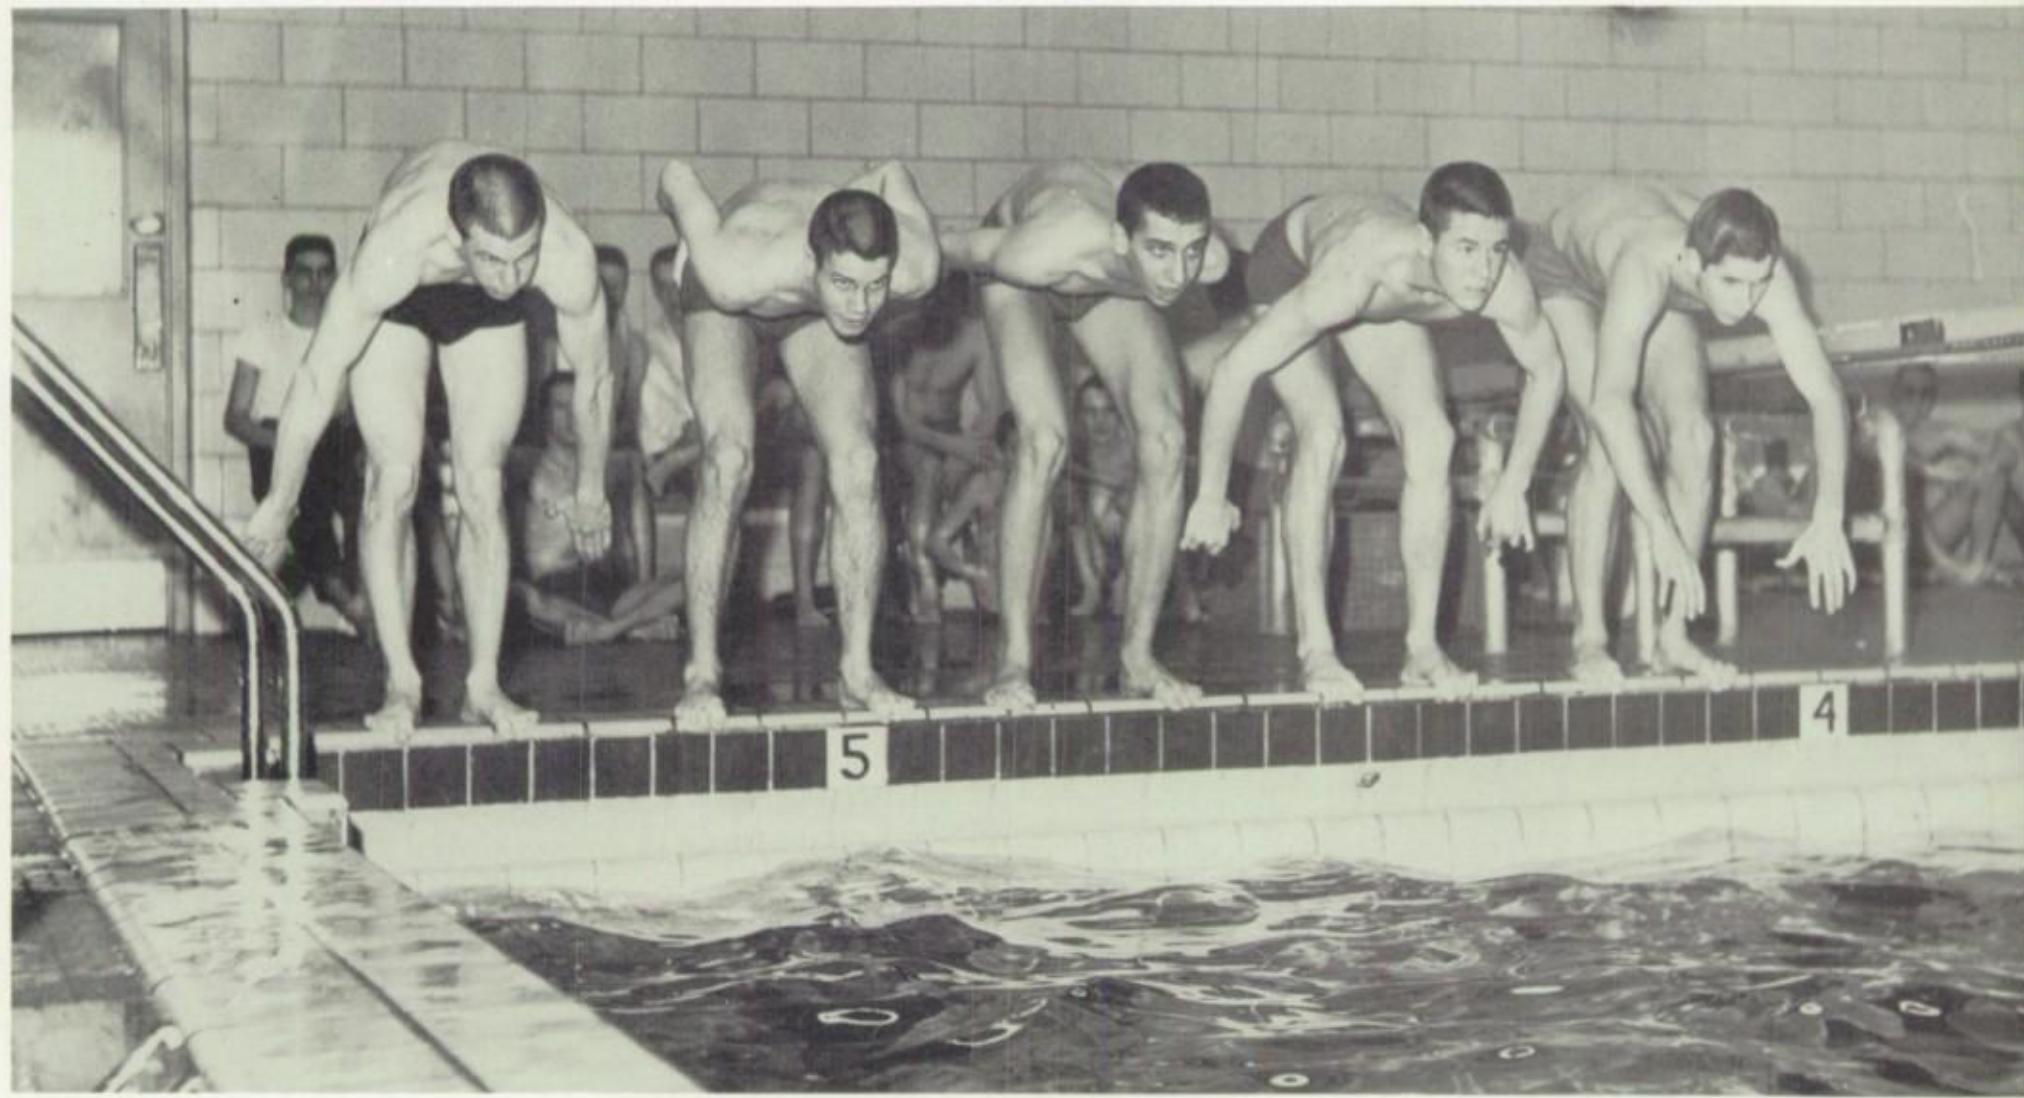

Competition was keen this season, but the Hoban Knights broke records, gained prestige, and again represented Hoban High in another successful season.

BURNING THE MAPLES

Every Thursday afternoon at 2:50, a bus-load of avid Hoban Kegglers makes its way to the Midway Bowling Lanes on Tallmadge Road. This started in late fall and continued into early May. Twenty-four teams were formed under the direction of Brother Jerome Meyer and led by President Mike Harvey. These teams were composed of all classes, freshmen to seniors. Several teams vied for first place position in order to gain the coveted top-team trophy on May 10. Other trophies awarded at that time were for top-man and top three-game-average man positions.

DIAMOND MEN TRIUMPH IN A

With only three returning lettermen, seniors John Lepkowski and John Shannon, and junior Marty Lappin, the 1961 Hoban baseball team repeated an excellent performance, placing second, behind Central, in the Akron City League. Under Coach Zupke, the team fought its way to an 8-7 season.

Starting the season with a superlative pitching job by Marty Lappin, who struck out 13 batters, the Hoban nine paced a 6-3 win over South.

In the second game Central revealed the strong pinch-hitting of Ron Aaron.

Then South tried for revenge. In the last inning the tying and winning runs were scored by All-City catcher Dave Richards and Bob Dadik on a double steal and an error.

In the North game, won by Hoban 14-2, Denny Kraus led the hitting department with a homer and two triples, while Marty Lappin finished with a 4-hitter. Denny Kraus and Bob Dadik were the leading hitters on the team.

Losing only five seniors through graduation, Coach Zupke has high hopes for reaching the number one position in the Akron area during the 1962 season.

CINDERMEN SET NEW SCHOOL RECORDS

The Hoban Knights, sparked by the record-breaking feats of Jim Maurer and John Darmstadt, completed a highly successful 1961 track season.

Senior John Darmstadt collected 142 points in his record setting year in the 100, 220, and 440 dash. He also holds three Inter-City Conference records and has set four Hoban records.

Jim Maurer, who stands a diminutive five-feet-eight, amazed Hobanites with his excellent jumping. He holds Hoban's high jump record at 6 ft.-2 in., the Inter-City Conference mark at 6 ft.-1 in., and placed fifth among the finest jumpers in the state.

Mike Urbano has placed his name in the Hoban High track record book with a 10 ft.-10 in. pole vault during the season. Mike was third in scoring behind John Darmstadt and Ray Welsh respectively, with 79.5 points.

With eight returning lettermen for the 1962 season, the year is expected to be one of wins and record-breakings.

HOBAN GOLF TEAM

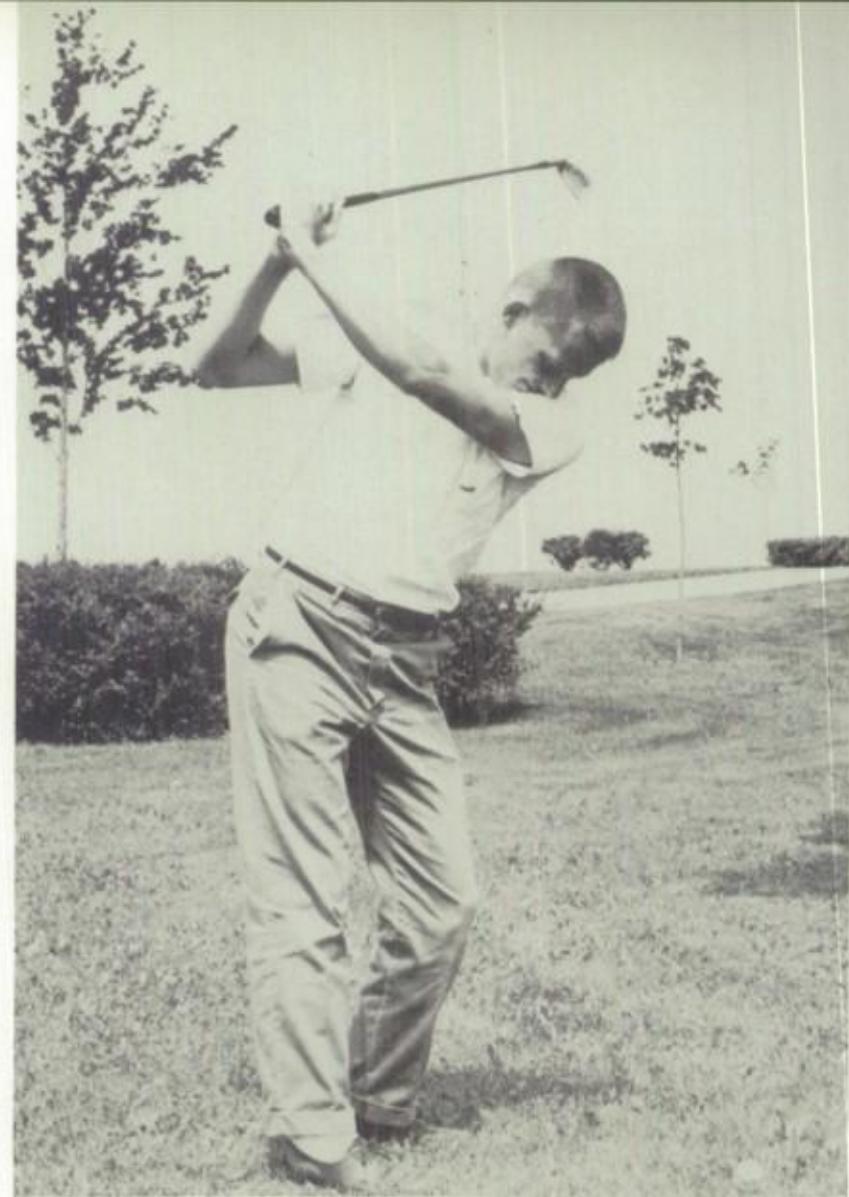

UP TO PAR IN '61

Firestone Park Golf Course, Hoban's home links, was the scene of action for the 1961 golf team, coached by Brother Clarence, C.S.C. With only one returning letterman, captain Bud McAnallen, the golf team showed a very exciting season.

The Knights opened the season with a 5-4 victory over Hower; the team then won a 6-3 decision over North. The season continued with a 7-2 romp over St. Vincent, an arch-rival in every sport, a 9-0 shut-out over Kenmore, and a 7-2 win over East.

Fate then changed, as Garfield squeaked past Hoban with a 5-4 score. Then came losses to Buchtel, the leading team in the league, Cuyahoga Falls and Barberton. The Knights finished third in the City League with a 7-2 victory over Central.

Captain Bud McAnallen showed fine golfing in leading his team to six victories with 10 points, followed by Stan Sever with 8½ points, and Tom Podobnick with 6½ points. Jim Mong, the golfer with the best over-all average, was close behind with 6 points.

NETMEN SET SIGHTS ON CITY CROWN

Thirty boys under the direction of Brother Cletus paced Hoban's 1961 tennis team to a 7-3 season. Two of the losses were enough to prevent the team from winning the Akron Tennis League title, on which they placed second in 1960. These losses were at the hands of East, 4-1, and Buchtel, 3-2. The only other blemish was a non-league game with Massillon, 4-2.

In the Inter-City Conference Tournament, Hoban's talented tennis team was paced by seniors Rory O'Neil and Horst Oswald, who copped silver medals in the doubles. Cuyahoga Falls won the tournament with Hoban finishing in second place.

Six members of the regular team finished in the District Play-Offs on May 19 and 20.

Under the direction of Brother Paul Kelly, the 1962 tennis team with twenty returning veterans should place high in both the Akron and the Inter-City Leagues.

Brother Paul Kelly gives instructions on fast play for doubles to Leonard Nalencz and Greg Collins.

ALBUM SECTION

Throughout his four years at Hoban, a student acquires a great deal of knowledge, experience, and development through associations with his teachers and classmates. These memories of the school, its teachers, the many school activities, and personal experiences make a profound impression that will linger in the mind for many years to come. The friendships he makes are lasting ones, as are the memories of the work he has done and the fun that he has had here at Hoban. In this, the album section of the '62 WAY, we present the many faces that we can associate with that way of life which is lived here on the Hoban scene.

RT. REV. MSGR. CLEMENT H. BOEKE

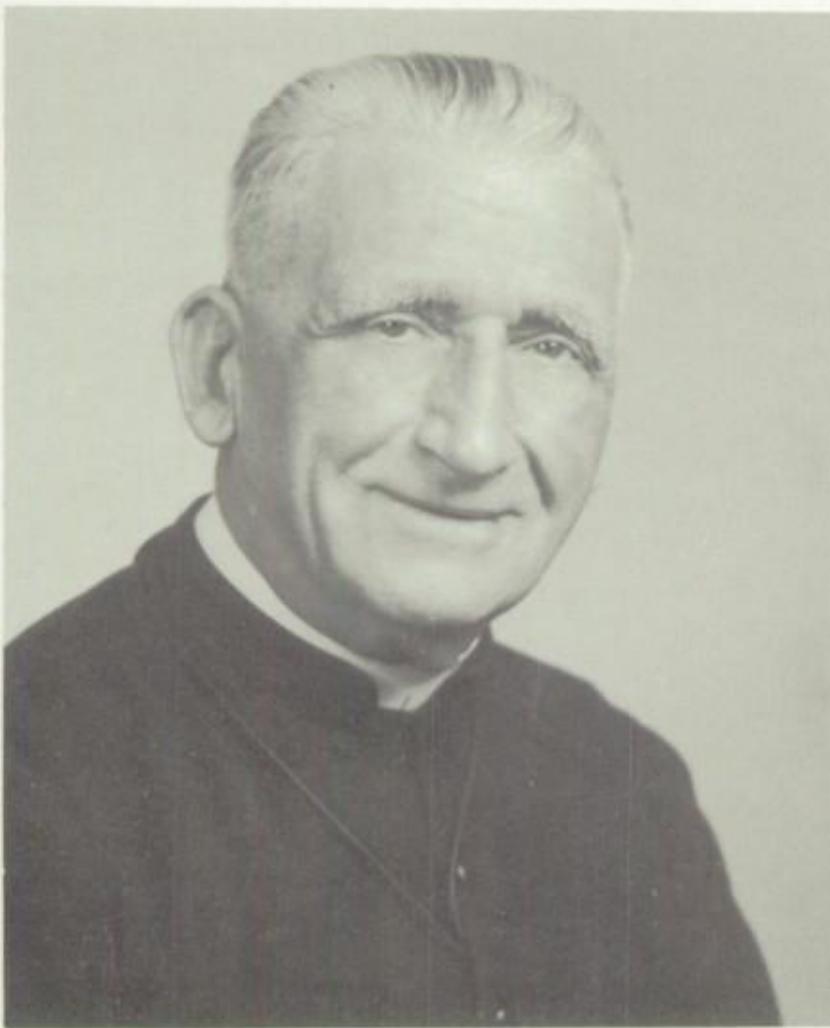

IN MEMORY

While our high school was in its infancy at St. Bernard's parish school, Archbishop Hoban was in need of many leaders, both lay and religious, to see the need for increasing the spiritual and intellectual opportunities of young students in the Akron area. Such a leader was the late Monsignor Clement Boeke, pastor of St. Paul's Parish. From the initial stages of planning, to the formal dedication by Archbishop Hoban, Monsignor Boeke was a source of encouragement and devotedness which eventually brought about the realization of another Catholic high school for the youth of Akron. The students and faculty of Archbishop Hoban High School will endeavor to maintain and exemplify the spirit with which Monsignor Boeke played his role in helping to make Hoban High the great school that it is. May he rest in peace.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS DEDICATED TO GOD

The extent of the effect that an exemplary religious, a good teacher and a firm friend can produce in the life and character of a student under his care, is beyond measure. When multiplied by twenty-five, and as much as fifty, the prospect becomes staggering. Yet, this is the case for three members of the Hoban faculty who have collectively reached one hundred years of service to Catholic education as members of the Congregation of Holy Cross. To these jubilarians, our sincerest congratulations and prayerful best wishes on the anniversary of their religious profession in Holy Cross.

SENIORS SET SIGHTS ON THE FUTURE

Seniors at last! Those three years of looking up to the upperclassmen were finally rewarded. During our final year, though, we didn't have much time to relax in that coveted position. The year was spent plowing through books, filling out college applications or preparing to make a living, and rounding out our personalities with activites, sports, and social life. As time moves on, these luminescent days and their reflections will end, but the reflections they have made upon our minds will never fade. We've made our mark, and it is this mark that will make its impression upon those who will follow us as men of Hoban High.

Senior Class Moderator Brother Marius meets with Ed Riegler to clear up the details for coming senior activities.

Seniors were the school leaders. Whether it be in sports or academics, the seniors were always in there fighting to uphold the good name of Archbishop Hoban High. Victories did not come easily in '61 and '62, but the spirit displayed by these upperclassmen was certainly worthy of much praise.

As the year drew to a close, we began to reflect on the many friends and good times we knew here at Hoban. Unlike the underclassmen, our period of looking forward is now one of memory. But memories are made of this, and we can justly look back upon our high school days as the best years of our lives.

JUNIORS PREPARE FOR TOP POSITION

Our junior year marked the time of developing into mature Hoban men. We studied hard those subjects that were intended to mold mature thinking, practiced at those sports that build strong bodies, and had fun at those activities which formed a well balanced personality. We prepared to fill the gap left open by the graduating seniors. The sparkle of the Prom and the distinction of wearing class rings graduated us to level of Hobanites—First Class.

Mr. William Semonin and Brother Robert Leamnson pour over the plans laid for the coming social event of the year—the Junior Prom.

SOPHOMORES GAIN A FIRM FOOTHOLD

We had a year of experience behind us. We knew the ropes fairly well by now. But there was much ahead and we had to settle down to advance through the formidable coming years by tackling the present work at hand. We are now able to see ourselves reflected in the activities that set a pace in developing us into the eventual leaders of the enriched academic, social, and the athletic life afforded us in the school on the hill. This is the year when we really began to feel that we are a part of Hoban High and its traditions.

FRESHMEN ADJUST TO THE HOBAN WAY

The new world of high school life opened up to us. After the first weeks of bumbling about the halls trying to find the next class, we finally adjusted to that Hoban routine we would know for the coming years. But we have not found a mere routine that goes from period to period until the last day of the school year. We found, instead, ourselves being reflected in the academic, social, and athletic world that is so much a part of our lives here at Hoban High.

Freshman class moderators Brother Donan and Mr. Henry Schmidt pour over a few original ideas for a freshman assembly.

Freshman show that they have a right to be proud because they were the first to go over the top in the chocolate drive.

Lifting notes and spirit in preparing for the Freshman Dance are Dominic Walter, Dennis Vezzani, and Tom Zeno.

WE'RE ON OUR WAY

The school doors are thrust open and the corridor-pressured stream of students spills down the steps into the parking lot. In many ways it is like the end of every other school day. The buses are waiting to pick up their passengers as the din of automobile engines increases. Yet, on this day many things are changed. The crowd is void of the already graduated seniors, and the minds of those remaining, students and faculty alike, are carefree with the thought of summer vacation.

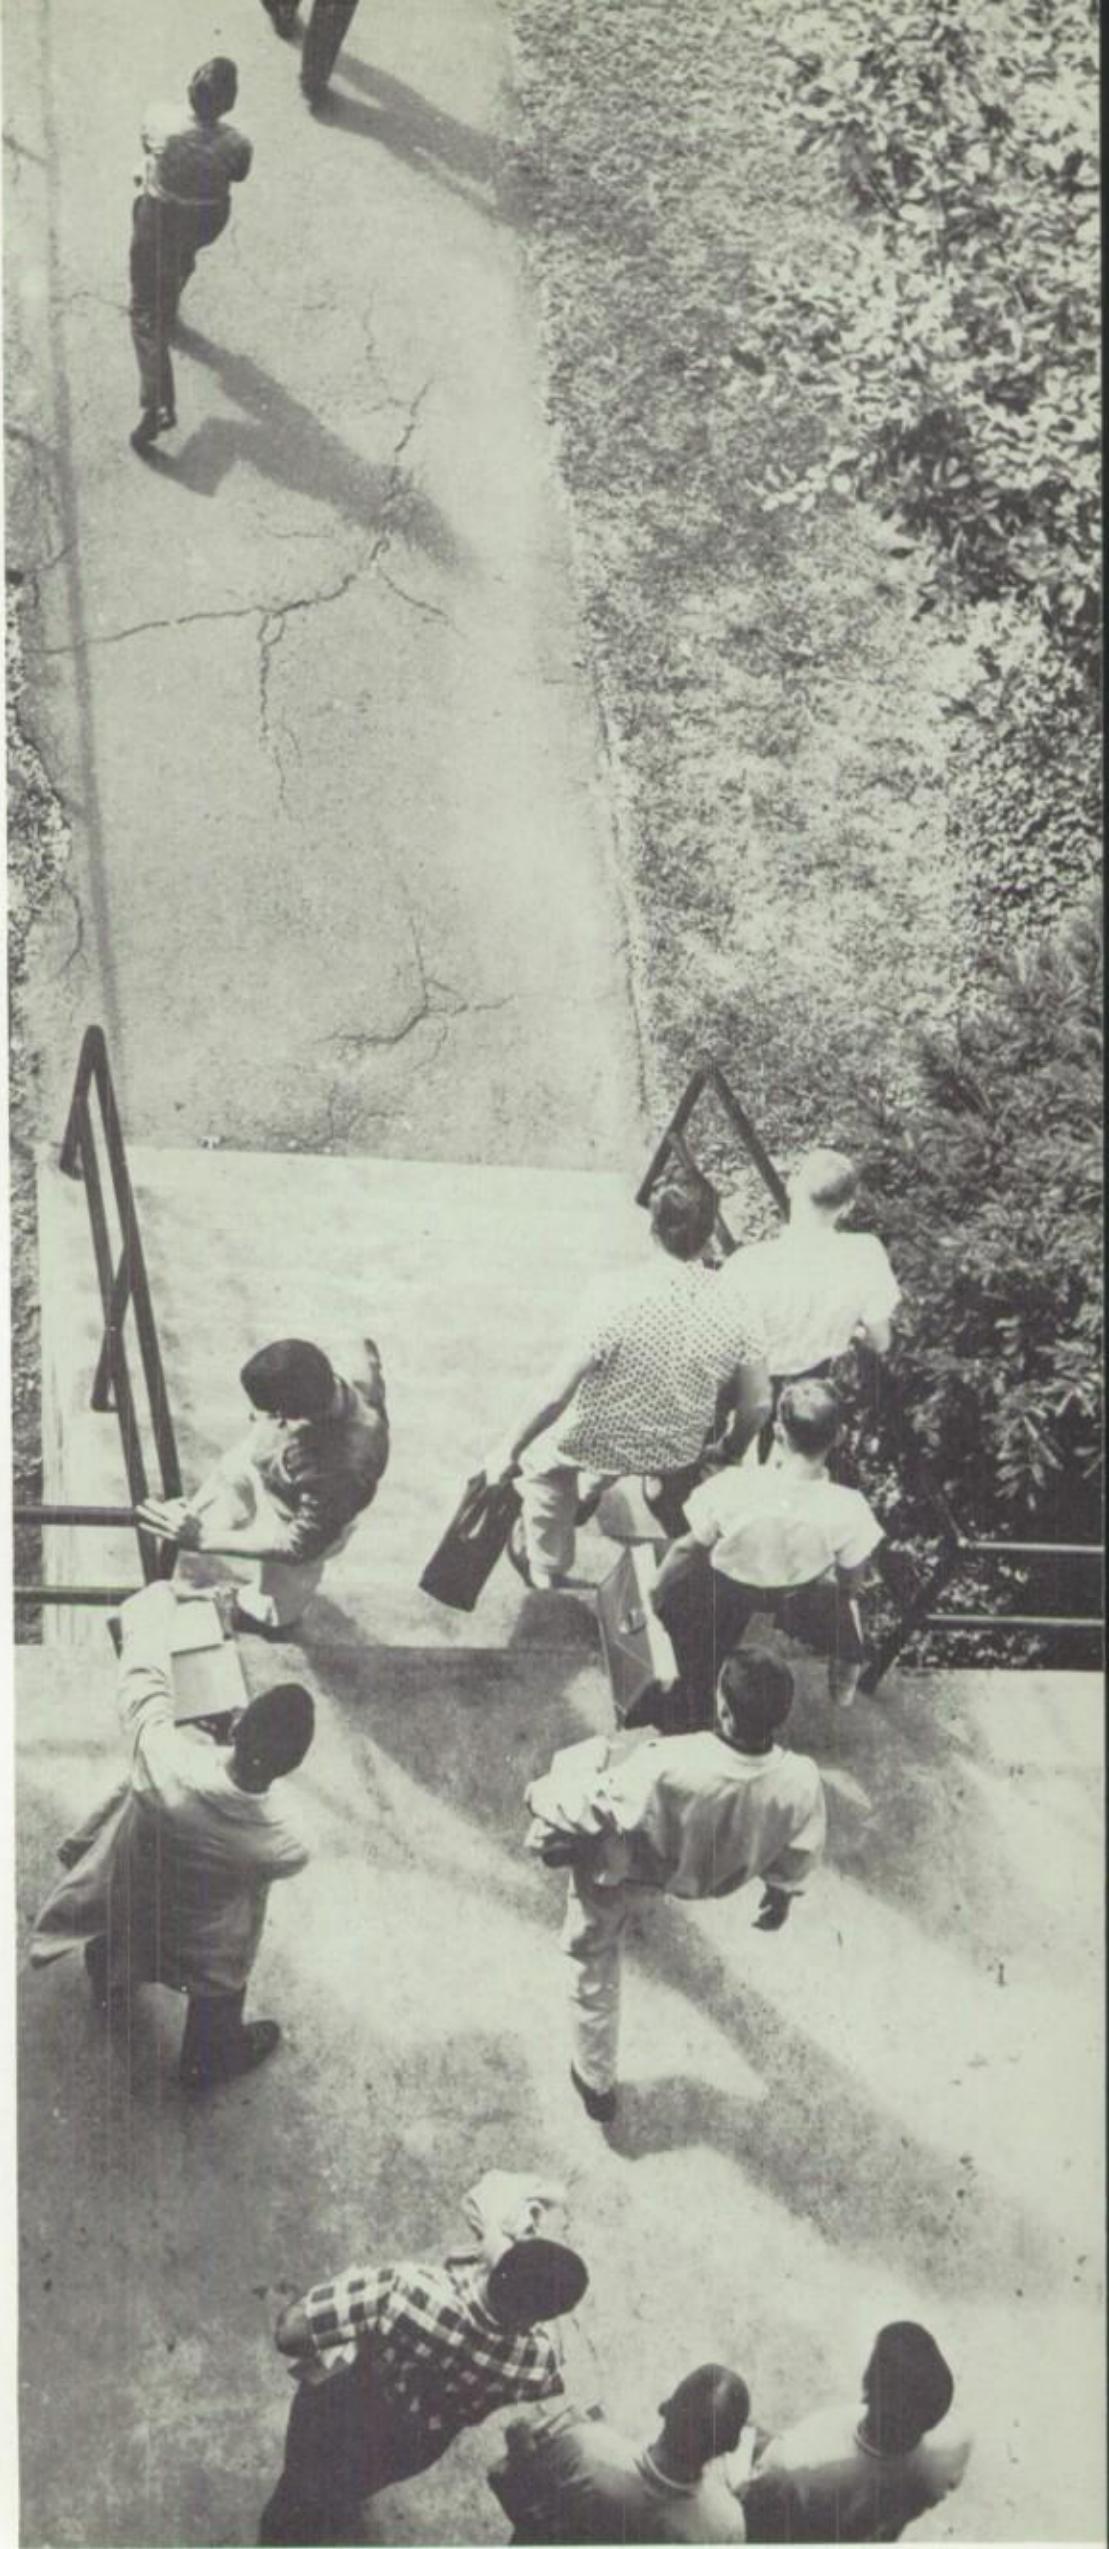

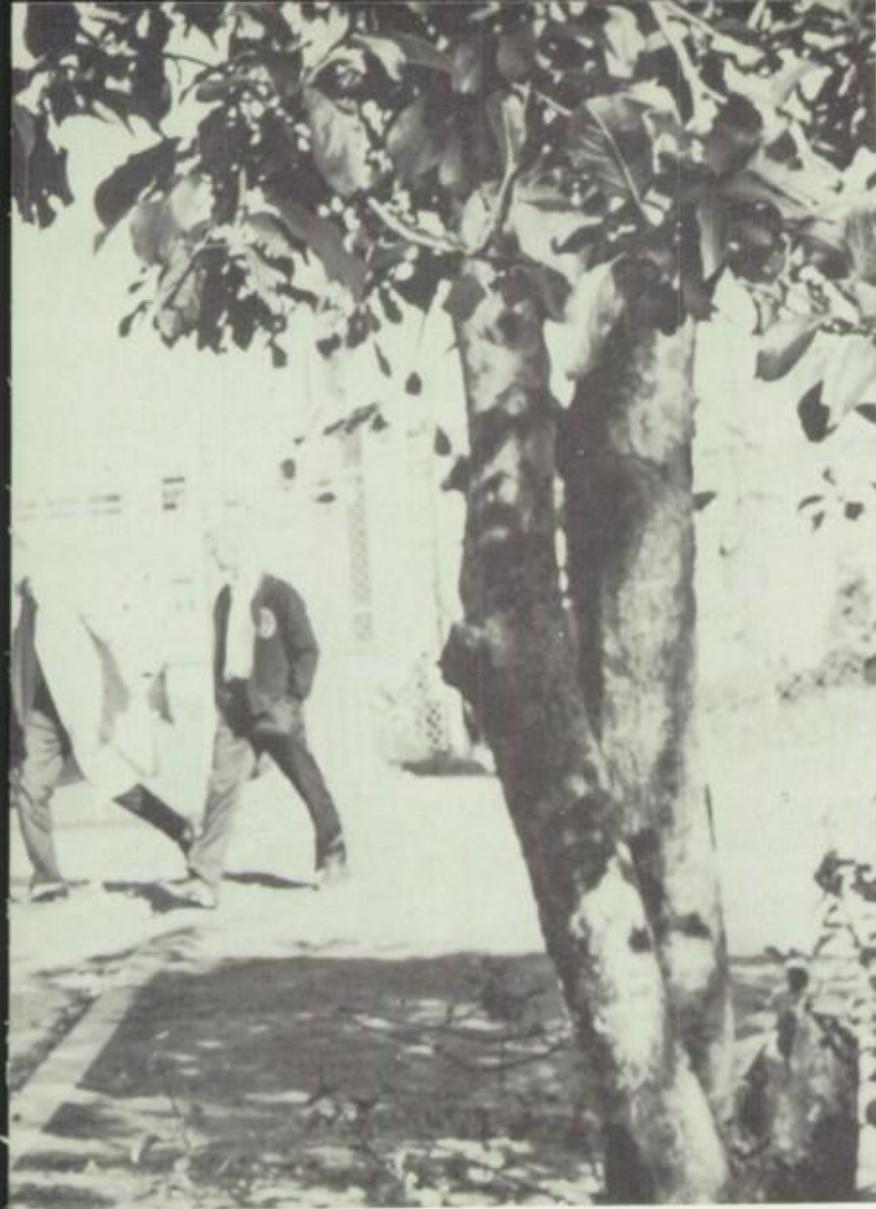

In their rush home, these Hobanites, though possibly unaware, carry with them memories of the spent-out school year. Sometime in the future they will reflect upon these '61-'62 days.

There's little else to do now except to make our way down 5th Avenue and then home.

Climaxing the school year, Mr. Weigand starts the final Barberton-Hoban run for the '61-'62 school year.

Life at Hoban High keeps burning long after the corridors are cleared of the routine of another day.

THE AKRON SKYLINE REFLECTS THE CLOSING OF ANOTHER SCHOOL YEAR.

Conclusion. . . .

The sun settles lazily in the picturesque western sky, drawing to herself her last ruddy rays and bringing '61-'62 school year to a fitting close. Her reflections are dying now, and soon the tranquil dark will creep over the tired corridors of the school.

We, the editors and staff of the '62 WAY, have tried to present these reflections as we saw them and you lived them. During the year, those times spent in class, at activities, in sports, at social events, and with our friends have made lasting impressions upon all of us. We hope that in the future this edition of THE WAY will help you reflect upon those times again and again.

Our sincere thanks to all those who have made the publication of THE WAY for 1962 possible, and for the encouragement and help afforded us by our moderator, the faculty, and fellow Hobanites.

The Editors and Staff of the 1962 WAY.
